Twenty-Six Nations Approve Hoover Disarming Plans

OPPOSITION EXPRESSED BY JAPANESE

New Offers of Security Expected to Bring France Into Line in Few Days

ITALY AGREES FIRST

American Proposals Accepted by Great Powers With But Minor Changes

GENEVA, June 23.—(UP)—The American plan to reduce the world's armaments by one-third and relieve the world of an expenditure of from 10 to 15 billion dollars in 10 years had the approval of 26 nations today.

Either publicly or privately, the representatives of these nations had informed Ambassador Hugh Gibson that their governments approved the American proposals.

Japanese opposition was the chief fear of American delegates to the world disarmament conference.

The Japanese considered existing naval ratios only provisional until 1936, when they would be subject to revision. The American plan might provide that present relative naval strengths continue indefinitely.

The Americans believed that French opposition could be overcome through new offers of security. This might be achieved through a unilateral security pledge which, combined with another purely European security pact, would meet the French requirements.

Italy was the first nation to give the plan complete and unconditional approval.

Tsuneko Matsudaira, told the commission the Japanese government would reserve its views on the plan until it was carefully studied.

Support of the plan by Germany, Spain, Russia and Great Britain was considered "practically complete," as these nations had made only slight reservations.

JAPAN OPPOSED TO HOOPER PLAN

TOKIO, June 23.—(UP)—A government spokesman today confirmed Japan's opposition to President Hoover's proposal for further disarmament.

However, the government has not thoroughly studied Mr. Hoover's proposal and there will be no hurry in deciding this government's final attitude. It was indicated that Japan prefers to await the attitude of the European powers.

It was further pointed out that Japan's position at present is unfavorable to further arms limitation because of the unfavorable situation in China and unsettled conditions in Manchuria and Russia.

The spokesman said the Japanese navy is dissatisfied with the London naval treaty and already has announced that it will demand a higher ratio in 1936 for Japan.

"Japan considers that the American and European attitude toward disarmament is influenced by the war debts reparations in which Japan is interested," the United Press was told.

While Japan would like to reduce taxes she does not consider money invested in armaments as wasted. The spokesman compared the Japanese situation with the boundary defense problem of France, noting that Japan must maintain an "anti-Russia" China. For this purpose, Japan wants treaty revision to permit her to build 60,000 ton submarines.

FIFTY PATIENTS RESCUED IN HOSPITAL FIRE

DR. CUSHMAN IS APPOINTED TO STATE OFFICE

Local Physician Named as Superintendent Mendocino Hospital

DR. RUGGLES A. CUSHMAN, nationally known psychiatrist of this city, today was appointed superintendent and medical director of the Mendocino State hospital at Talmadge, it was learned here this morning. The appointment was made by the state director of institutions, Dr. J. M. Toner.

Dr. Cushman takes the place left vacant by the resignation of Dr. J. J. Crowley, of San Francisco. He has been in Sacramento attending a meeting of directors of state institutions for the past week and will take charge of the hospital on July 1. Dr. Cushman was assistant superintendent of the Mendocino hospital for five years before coming to Santa Ana 18 years ago, where he is well known in medical circles and where he has since practiced.

A member of the American Psychiatric association, Dr. Cushman has taken a keen interest in mental hygiene since his graduation from Dartmouth college and he has made valuable contributions for the California Medical magazine and to the Better Health magazine on this subject.

Mrs. Cushman expects to leave for the north about August 1 and Dr. Cushman will return here for a few days the middle of July. Dr. Cushman is chairman of the Orange County Republican committee.

Dr. Cushman has been prominently identified with Republican party activities in Orange county for a number of years and for some time was chairman of the County Republican Central committee.

City Council Of Taft Ousts Big Bull

TAFT, Cal., June 23.—(UP)—The starry-eyed bossy who gazes fondly on the billboards—at the big, up-standing bull used to advertise a brand of tobacco, may not do so in this town, no more!

On the solicitation of women's clubs, the city council today had ordered the owner of the billboard to remove the poster, which had flaunted bossy's admiration of "her hero" on the main street of Taft.

The women's clubs thought the poster wasn't quite proper.

ORANGE COUNTY PIONEER DIES FROM INJURIES

Serafin Corona is Fatally Hurt in Auto Accident at Bellflower

SERAFIN R. CORONA, 61, a life long resident and rancher of northern Orange county whose family holds one of the original Spanish land grants in the county, died at the Artesia hospital at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon of injuries sustained in a truck collision at Somerset and South street in Bellflower at 6:20 Wednesday morning.

Mr. Corona resided at 204 Trustlow street, Fullerton.

Three trucks figured in the crash which was caused when the unknown driver of one failed to make a proper signal at a turn and caused trucks driven by Corona and Belvin L. Collier, 29, of Los Angeles, to crash head on. The driver who was responsible escaped, according to reports to the Los Angeles sheriff's office. No charges have been filed but a coroner's inquest will be held at Bellflower Friday, it was announced.

Collier was uninjured but Mr. Corona suffered a fractured skull and leg, an eight inch cut across his abdomen and numerous cuts and bruises about the head. He was rushed in an unconscious condition to the Artesia hospital.

Mr. Corona is survived by his widow, Mrs. Pearl Corona; one daughter, Mrs. Isaac Cooper, Peralta; two brothers, J. D. Corona of Fullerton and Manuel R. Corona of Long Beach, and four grandsons.

Funeral services will be held at the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral home in Anaheim at 2 p.m. Saturday with Rev. S. E. Hawes, pastor of the First Baptist church in Fullerton, officiating. Interment will be made in the Anaheim cemetery.

Big Putnam Institution Destroyed

Million Dollar Memorial Hospital in Vermont Gutted by Flames

BENNINGTON, Vt., June 23.—(UP)—Fifty patients were rescued by nurses, firemen and volunteers today when fire broke out suddenly in Henry W. Putnam memorial hospital and threatened to destroy the $1,000,000 institution.

An hour after the fire started, Dr. E. A. Tobin, a resident physician, expressed the fear that the magnificent hospital, built in 1918 and subsidized by Henry W. Putnam of New York City, would be destroyed.

The entire north wing, where the fire started, already was in ruins, the flames were sweeping toward the south wing, and two-thirds of the roof had collapsed.

So quickly was the removal of patients effected that possible panic was averted, despite the fact that only a few minutes after the fire started, evidently from faulty electric wiring, the entire north wing was enveloped in flames, and some coursed through the rest of the structure.

HAUSNER GREETED BY WIFE UPON RETURN FROM FLIGHT

MIAMI Fla., June 23.—(UP)—This vacation city declared a holiday of its own today for Stanislaus Hausner, unknown motion picture operator who clung seven days without food or water to his wrecked plane, then told folks here that "if I had a plane, I'd be willing to try the same flight tomorrow."

The flier had been forced down at sea on an attempted non-stop flight from New York to Warsaw financed by friends. He was rescued by the tanker Circle Shell after seven days during which his wife praying daily in Newark, N. J., "never gave up hope."

Hausner was reunited with that wife aboard the Circle Shell here just before midnight, 92 miles off shore.

She and the party of 40 had left Miami on a yacht. The party transferred to a sea-going tug, just two miles from the tanker.

The tug soon reached the Circle Shell and Mrs. Hausner rushed aboard. There by the light of a brilliant Florida moon and newspaper camera-men's flashlights, she embraced the man she had prayed for in the Newark church and home.

Hausner told his story to friends aboard the tug, repeated it as soon as he reached land, and then told a crowded theater the same story.

"I had covered approximately 2800 miles when engine trouble developed at 9 a. m. after 29 hours in the air, couldn't find the trouble and decided I'd have to land."

"Between the time I decided to land, and the time I actually landed, I saw 15 ships, but none of them saw me."

SAYS HE IS OUT TO WIN NOMINATION

Gilbert Hitchcock Named Chairman of Platform Committee for Parley

M'ADOO IN CHICAGO

Comes Out Flatly Against Change in Two-thirds Rule for Nominations

CHICAGO, June 23.—(UP)—Alfred E. Smith refused today to join in any compromise in his fight to win the Democratic presidential nomination.

Asked concerning reports that he was considering entering a combination in favor of Owen D. Young, Smith said: "I'm not here to compromise, I'm here to nominate myself if I can do it. I am not here to talk about anybody else."

This was the chief development as other candidates began arriving, full of plans and strategies for "stopping Roosevelt."

At the same time, associates of Roosevelt said he has drafted a short platform with a prohibition plank of less than 90 words.

His friends said it was "direct and frank," favoring prompt Congressional action to start the machinery for repeal, with precautions against return of the saloon.

Roosevelt has heretofore been for repeal, and his rival, Smith, likewise for it. Smith, however, would have action started to modify the Volstead law to obtain beer at once.

The whole Roosevelt platform, it was said, was only 800 words long—one tenth the wordage of the Republican platform.

The Roosevelt-Smith feud, and the ramifications growing out of it reached out into almost every activity here today.

STATE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS MEET

VISALIA, Calif., June 23.—(UP)—The state convention of the Christian Endeavor union was to open here this afternoon for a four-day session of business meetings and entertainment.

Will H. Vogt of Sacramento, state president, was to preside at the convention, assisted by Howard L. Born of Los Angeles, secretary, and H. Lewis Mathewson, vice president.

Speakers from various parts of the state were to address the sessions.

HANFORD BANKER IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

FRESNO, Calif., June 23.—(UP)—G. H. Gaines, manager of the Hanford branch of the Bank of America, today was president of the Association of San Joaquin Valley banks following the monthly meeting of the organization here.

Glenn Freeman, Madera, was elected vice president and C. T. Reagan, Dinuba, was named secretary-treasurer.

Reports on the State Bankers' association meeting at San Francisco and other business also occupied the session.

50 KILLED BY TIDAL WAVE IN MEXICO RESORT

City of Cuyutlan Wrecked and Scores of Bodies Washed to Sea

COLIMA CITY, Mex., June 23.—(UP)—Many residents of Cuyutlan were killed, the city was wrecked, and many bodies were carried out to sea by a tidal wave, refugees arriving here today said.

Cuyutlan is on the Pacific coast. Authorities were unwilling to estimate casualties pending reports from relief parties. Governor Saucedo of Colima state left for Cuyutlan to supervise relief operations.

Advices from Manzanillo said the mayor had been informed by Cuyutlan officials that 30 bodies had been recovered. Other reports placed the number of known dead as high as 50.

Representatives of the state government at Cuyutlan said no structure was left standing within half a mile of the seafloor.

The tidal wave was reported to have extended along the coast for 10 miles. It left countless fish, and many sharks, on shore as it returned to sea, carrying residents of Cuyutlan with it, first reports said.

The governor said that Tecoman, badly damaged by an earthquake last week, suffered in the tidal wave.

Steady rain fell here and over the tidal wave area, adding to the despair of the refugees. They crowded into a temporary morgue to view the few bodies brought here.

Many residences in Colima City were made uninhabitable by the continuous rain. Local authorities said they would have to send other refugees on to Mexico City or other cities, as there was no room for them here.

NEW CLUE IS FOUND IN LINDY KIDNAPING

ALPINE, N. J., June 23.—(UP)—The story of a Negro taxicab driver was investigated today as offering a possible clue to the persons to whom Dr. John F. (Jafse) Condon paid $50,000 ransom money in the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

The Negro is reported to have said he was hired by two men and a woman on April 2, the night of the payment, to drive them to a spot near St. Raymond's cemetery. It was at the cemetery that Condon handed the money over a hedge to a man known as "John."

PASSAGE OF RELIEF BILL TODAY HOPED

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(UP)—Senate Democrats were confident of obtaining passage today of their $2,000,000,000 unemployment relief program.

The senate debated the bill continuously for 13 hours yesterday, but only a small percentage of the million or more pilgrims here gained admission. At the official opening of the conference at St. Mary's, thousands stood outside while Cardinal LaRue moved through the kneeling crowd.

When night fell over the Emerald Isle, millions of candles were lighted to burn until dawn, and the sky was emblazoned with prayers cast by powerful electrical projectors. The church's greatest ceremony became the most spectacular in modern history. Before a common altar, a million men, women and children knelt in affirmation of Christ's bodily presence in the Holy Eucharist—the consecrated bread and wine.

Of the million persons attending the congress, at least 800,000 were Irish. The United States sent 20,000, England and Wales 25,000, Scotland 15,000, with lesser numbers from other countries. In Dublin bay, 20 large liners served as floating hotels for overseas delegates.

Meetings and lectures will continue tomorrow, and on Saturday the papal legate will celebrate mass for children in Phoenix park. Sunday, the final day of the congress, will be the most solemn and impressive ceremony of the week, a Pontifical high mass, in which the entire congress will participate.

CATHOLICS OF WORLD CROWD INTO DUBLIN

Pontifical Mass Celebrated on Second Day of Eucharist Congress

DUBLIN, June 23.—(UP)—Thousands of Catholic pilgrims crowded St. Mary's pro-cathedral today for the celebration of Pontifical mass on the second day of the international Eucharist congress.

General meetings and lectures in which the Holy Eucharist and its significance were discussed were held at local theaters and at University college. The papal legate, Cardinal LaRue, was to take the salute this afternoon from thousands of men participating in a mass meeting at Phoenix park.

Great crowds assembled at all meetings, but only a small percentage of the million or more pilgrims here gained admission. At the official opening of the conference at St. Mary's, thousands stood outside while Cardinal LaRue moved through the kneeling crowd.

GIRL ACCUSER OF HUTTON ON STAND AGAIN

Cross Examination is Resumed by Attorneys for Hutton This Morning

LOS ANGELES, June 23.—(UP)—Secure in the knowledge that his accuser at least was nervous, David L. Hutton, husband of the famed evangelist, Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, sat contentedly in court today as his attorneys continued their rigorous cross examination of Myrtle St. Pierre, attractive nurse who charges that Hutton betrayed her under promise of marriage.

The questioning of Mrs. St. Pierre was resumed where Judge Lester Roth stopped it late yesterday when she pointed to Mark Jones, Hutton attorney, and sobbed out that "that man makes me nervous."

Jones, at the time, was forcing her to repeat in the most minute detail the story she told in her direct testimony of the manner in which Hutton assertedly wooed, betrayed and then deserted her. Mrs. St. Pierre asks $200,000 for breach of promise.

"When did Hutton first propose to you?" Jones asked his first question this morning.

"It was the third day after the party at which we met," the witness answered.

Jones skipped over the recital of the proposals and asked if Hutton continued his attentions after that.

"Oh, yes," the nurse said. "He telephoned me several times each day. Sometimes he called me long distance. He told me he couldn't sleep for thinking of me."

Hutton, who on previous days has seemed to suffer considerably through either the heat of the day or the testimony, was more composed this morning.

The 250-pound singer, clad in white flannels, smiled contentedly as Jones went about his systematic questioning.

Beside the plump baritone at counsel table sat a well known concert singer, Pietro Gentile. Gentile admitted he had been subpoenaed to the trial by Hutton but he pretended to know of no testimony that he might give.

He said, however, that he did know Mrs. St. Pierre.

Once, when I had a sore throat," he recounted, "I had her treat it so that I could give a concert."

Hutton promised a thrill for courtroom spectators when he repeated his intention to appear on the witness stand.

"I certainly will testify," he said. "I'm going to get up there and make the fur fly, I'll tell you."

He interrupted the discourse to beam on members of Mrs. McPherson-Hutton's Four Square Gospel congregation, many of whom were in the courtroom.

COMMITTEE MEETS

The resolutions committee held its first meeting at which these rivalries burst forth. They also churned up in the first meeting of the credentials committee.

Two of the farm belt's presidential hopes arrived today—Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma and former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri.

Murray declared he would support Shouse in his fight to win a permanent chairmanship against the Roosevelt candidate, Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana. He also was for a prohibition plank "for sensible people."

He opposes the 18th Amendment and return of the saloon.

Meanwhile, the tight-lipped man who holds the key to the situation—John F. Curry, boss of Tammany Hall—let the mystery of his intentions grow. Roosevelt's manager, Parley, who still claims "Roosevelt on the first ballot," made a midnight trip to see him, but Curry said he was tired and put off the talk until today. Curry is a bitter foe of Smith. What he will do is the one big question.

FORMER GOVERNORS TO ATTEND BANQUET

SACRAMENTO, June 23.—(UP)—Governor Rolph will be present at a dinner in Oakland June 28, in honor of Dr. George C. Pardee, former governor, it was announced today.

All living governors of California have been invited to the dinner, including James Gillette, William D. Stephens, Hiram W. Johnson, Friend W. Richardson and C. C. Young.

Senator Johnson is still in Washington, D. C., while former Governor Young is en route from France to America, so it is considered unlikely they will be present. In addition, mayors of 17 Alameda cities will attend.

MRS. KEITH MILLER IS HELD IN JAIL

MIAMI Fla., June 23.—(UP)—Mrs. Keith-Miller, British aviator, was held in jail here today on complaint of the United States Department of Labor, charged with entering the country illegally from Australia.

Her bond was fixed at $1000.

Mrs. Keith-Miller said she was "not worried," and added, "I will be out as soon as my attorney, James Carson, returns to the city."

She said she came to the United States four years ago "with proper credentials."

SENATE APPROVES RELIEF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(UP)—The senate today approved the $2,300,000,000 Wagner unemployment relief program and sent it to conference with the House.

Final action came under a virtual suspension of debate forced upon the senate by leaders anxious for completion of pressing congressional business and adjournment for the summer.

There was no record vote on the measure.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 23. (To the Editor of The Register: You are from now on going to hear every imaginable scheme brought out to get America to cancel the debts. In fact a "wow" of a one has just showed up. "We are to cancel the debts if Europe will not arm." That's original. The Liberty bondholders of America bribe Europe to disarm. We pay 'em $5,000,000,000 if they promise us they will just struggle along on what guns they have and not be rash and spend their money foolishly on armaments. You can't hire a nation from buying a gun if they think they need one any more than you can bribe folks not to carry an umbrella on rainy days. And by the way, what are they going to pay us for not arming?

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

AL SMITH SAYS HE IS OUT FOR CHIEF OFFICE

around which the whole convention will turn.

Close to Prize

Should Tammany swing then, 350 more votes to Roosevelt, the fight would be over—so close is the New York governor to grasping the prize. But with Tammany holding out, the "Stop Roosevelt" forces, mad and determined but lacking cohesion, might delay the choice temporarily with nobody knowing the ultimate results.

Smith held his second press conference in the huge Florentine room of the Congress hotel. Rival candidate, Governor Ritchie of Maryland has engaged this large room as headquarters and Ritchie portraits gazed from all walls upon this strange scene.

Still for himself and nobody else, still unwilling to say whether he will support the nominee of the convention if someone else wins, Smith drilled into the Roosevelt claims.

Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska today was named chairman of the Democratic national convention platform committee in a preliminary meeting at which factional rivalries burst forth with the promise of bitter fights to come. Hitchcock, a former senator, generally is classed as a Roosevelt man.

Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma, one of the favorite son candidates determined to block the nomination of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, sat on a front row chair and with a show of apparent suspicion challenged the proposals of the Roosevelt group.

William Gibbs McAdoo, leading sponsor of the candidacy of Speaker of the House John N. Garner, came out today against a change in the two-thirds nominating rule in the present convention.

He thus joined with the anti-Roosevelt forces, who depended upon retention of this rule to block the nomination of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Tammany Roosevelt forces are considering an attempt to change this rule if the stop-Roosevelt movement develops to any proportions.

RUM WAR BREAKS OUT IN LAS VEGAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 23.—A bootleg "liquor war" was believed to have broken out in Las Vegas with the bombing last night of the Big Four club, an establishment outside the territorial "dead line" established by police.

A crude bomb consisting of dynamite wrapped in light in a paper exploded in the building which was to have been added to Las Vegas' entertainment places after having been closed for renovation.

Damage was estimated at $1000. A rear door was blown in and flood water spilled into the basement of the Big Four club and adjoining buildings.

Several witnesses told police they saw a man running from the scene after the explosion.

JAPAN PRAISES LEAGUE REPORT ON MANCHURIA

TOKYO, June 23.—(INS)—"General satisfaction" is the attitude taken by Japan toward the League of Nations Commission of Inquiry and the first report of that group on Manchuria. At the same time, hope is expressed that the work will continue with the ultimate possibility of convincing Geneva that Japan was right in her actions of last September.

The interim report, which aimed to be entirely objective in its treatment, was concerned mostly with the present disposition of troops in Manchuria. Japanese citizens feel that the report put them in a more favorable light, as it disclosed, in an authoritative manner, the opposition to Japanese troops and Manchukuo police.

A spirit of appreciation has also been expressed toward the commission for being able to put out the report in spite of their short stay in Manchuria.

The section of the report which intimates that withdrawal of Japanese troops from Manchuria would be unwise at this time has likewise caused much favorable comment. The same is true of the remark that the Chinese Government has no control over any part of Manchuria.

Press comments suggest a feeling of confidence toward the final report of the Commission.

"Judging by the tone of the report," says one writer, "the investigators are going about their work in a generally satisfactory manner."

Such a viewpoint is something of a change from the previous attitude, which was to the effect that the final verdict was a foregone conclusion and would be unsatisfactory to Japan.

Government officials feel that, for the first time, League members will be brought face to face with the fact that Oriental conditions differ strongly from those prevailing in Europe. It is this fact, they feel, that has prevented Geneva from getting a clear idea of what is going on in China and Manchuria.

In most circles the hope is expressed that Geneva will not attempt to draw any conclusions until the final report of the Commission is in. The feeling is that, without complete data, further discussion would only aggravate matters and undo any possible good already accomplished.

2 BANDITS GET $30 IN SECOND SHOTGUN "JOB"

Two masked bandits held up Everett Spessard, 1402 South Main street, in the Economy Oil station at the same address last night with a shotgun and escaped with $30 in cash after forcing him to open the drawer to the cash register. The robbery occurred shortly after 9 o'clock.

The two bandits came to the station from the rear of the building and confronted Spessard with the gun. After taking the money, they backed away and escaped from the rear of the building, according to a report filed with police.

Tracks found by Captain Buckles of the city police department showed that the burglars went across a walnut grove to Edinger street. The tracks could be followed no farther. The holdup was investigated by Chief Howard, Captain Buckles and Officer Stewart. The officers made a tour of the vicinity immediately after receiving the call, but were unable to locate the men who committed the crime.

One of the bandits wore a white handkerchief over his face and the other concealed his face with a checkered handkerchief.

This is the second service station holdup which has been committed in Santa Ana within a short time, bandits having held up a station on Main street last week. Because in both instances a shot-gun was used and for other reasons, police believe the same bandits committed both crimes.

Two H. B. Firms Decline To Cut Oil Production

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 23.—Two oil operating companies are said to be blocking a raise in the price of oil in this field, according to Rob Hickerson, local oil conservation head. One of the concerns has 15 wells here and operates three, but the other 12 is claimed. The company claims they are oil wells and that by producing three wells and shutting down 12 it is making the biggest conservation in the field. The oil conservation board says the company is making no curtailment whatever.

The second company refuses to cut its production a drop of oil. It claims it has a contract for its entire production. As a result Standard Oil refuses to make the price raise promised if oil producers cut their output.

Youth's Genius Begets Noises, Brings Police

Boys will be boys, but if they start building automobiles out of kiddy cars and old washing machine motor parts, they will have to provide for a means of muffling the exhaust noises from the motor, according to police, who had an example of this sort to investigate last night.

Police received a complaint that a boy, the son of H. P. Opp, 501 East Twentieth street, had built an automobile out of kiddy car wheels and an old washing machine motor which operated "very good" but that the motor was without a muffler. The boy was told to install a muffler on his contraption and the matter was settled to the agreement of all concerned.

GOODE PLEDGES TAX REDUCTION AS SUPERVISOR

Pledging himself to a program of tax reduction, Orange county work for Orange county people, and an equal distribution of the gasoline tax to the cities Stanley E. Goode, Santa Ana realtor and former city councilman today issued a formal statement announcing his candidacy.

In his statement Goode also pledged full co-operation to the city officials of Santa Ana and disclaimed any political affiliation with any individual, select group of individuals or corporations. In regard to the program of tax reduction he said that he will fight for any reorganization of county affairs to attain this reduction.

His statement follows: "In declaring myself a candidate for supervisor from the First district, I have taken into consideration the necessity of having the office filled by one experienced and having a knowledge of the affairs of the City of Santa Ana and of Orange county."

"I have lived here for nearly 20 years; I have taken a vital interest in all affairs of government; I have served as city trustee for the City of Santa Ana for six years and was supervisor of the federal census for Orange and Riverside counties in 1930. I am a graduate of a California university, having taken my degree in law and economics. I am satisfied that I can fill the requirements of the office with justice to the taxpayer."

"We are in a transitional period and the next four years will be vital to the welfare of this county. If elected, I promise to be open-minded in any reorganization for the economy needed in government. I promise to give first consideration to the things that will help the county, but am not forgetting the fact that I will also be the representative of the people of Santa Ana."

"I will give full co-operation to the city officials of the City of Santa Ana, who represent the same people as the supervisor from this district. I feel that I can represent the taxpayers of this community with intelligence, force and justice."

"I am not the candidate of any individual, select group of individuals, or corporation. The support of the people of this district in my behalf will be appreciated, and if elected, the results attained will be for their benefit and the welfare of this district. I think it is only fair, however, to say that I am not a 'peace at any price' man—I prefer to fight for the things I am convinced are right, and for the rights of the people of this district and Orange county."

"I believe that the people of the county are entitled to full knowledge of all the actions and affairs of the county and that their representative should keep the people informed at all times."

"I pledge myself to a program for tax reduction, for reorganization where necessary to attain this end; for Orange county work for Orange county men and women; for an equitable distribution of the gasoline tax to the cities; for full co-operation with the law enforcement officials of the county; and for an informed public on all county affairs at all times."

COLLINS STAYS DRY IN FIGHT FOR CONGRESS

Candidacy of Sam Collins, district attorney for Orange county, for the nomination for congressman in the Nineteenth district on the Republican ticket was announced today. His statement says: "If I am elected to congress as a representative, I will uphold the Eighteenth amendment and will oppose any resolution attempting to repeal, modify or amend the same."

Collins said he intended to make a clean-out campaign, stressing importance of economic issues rather than factional issues. In keeping with his views on economy, he will carry on his campaign on that basis.

Favorably known throughout the three counties for his successful efforts to keep out "organizers of the barber, cleaning and dyeing and restaurant business, the district attorney is also widely known for his sympathetic interests in veterans' affairs, labor, agriculture, swift justice and up-building of the American home.

If elected to congress, he makes no promises other than that he will stand four-square always for the interests of his constituents as represented by their expressed desires, and will be continually and actively on the job.

The candidate is entirely a self-made man, and is conceded to be a clear-thinking student of public affairs. He is married, prominent in veterans' organizations, a member of the Christian Church, and has made an excellent record as district attorney, his friends declare.

SAM L. COLLINS

Burglars Pause For Beer While Looting a Home

Burglars who entered the home of Robert Jeffrey, one-half mile east of Culver road, last night escaped with loot valued at $150 and paused in their looting of the house to take a bottle of beer, according to a report of the burglary which was filed by investigating officers.

Entrance to the house was gained by cutting a screen on a window. The screen on a door was also slashed. The thieves escaped from the front door after robbing the house.

The loot included two revolvers, clothes, household goods, 300 pennies, jewelry and the bottle of beer.

An investigation was conducted by Deputy Sheriffs Nicholson and Zabla.

Candidates Are Scarce On Final Day for Filing

With the final day for filing nomination petitions of candidates for various county, state and national offices things were strangely quiet around the court house today. There were but three candidates who filed the petitions, and as they had already semi-officially hurried their hats into the arena, no one was surprised.

Summer Crosby, Laguna Beach publisher, officially filed his nomination petition and it is on its way to Sacramento.

Charles Van Wyk returned his petition as candidate for supervisor from the First district and Stanley Goode, candidate for the same post, filed his petition shortly after lunch.

PLANS ACTION TO STOP AN INVASION

One of the first important things the Merchants Division will take up at a meeting of the board tomorrow morning will be the framing of a city ordinance to protect merchants and manufacturers. It has been suggested that some action be taken at once to provide this protection.

A check-up by A. Cavalli, manager of the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, shows that nearly 300 licenses have been issued to out-of-town merchants and manufacturers to do business in Santa Ana. These out-of-town firms and men are grasping for the business of Santa Ana and are not stopping at anything. They are taking thousands of dollars away from Santa Ana every week.

Mr. Cavalli stated that his board would take immediate action to protect their interests. The Merchants Division was organized to combat just such matters.

City Attorney Clyde C. Downing is said to be ready to consider any action that is for the good of Santa Ana. A new ordinance calling for a heavy additional tax on these out-of-town merchants and manufacturers and dealers will be prepared and presented to the city attorney and the Board of City council at an early date.

PLACENTIA, June 23.—The Placentia American Legion hall is to be used by Placentia Parent-Teacher association as a place to serve meals to school children that are in need, it was voted at the meeting of the post this week.

Gillman and Richard White. Alternates are A. Burdick, G. Miranda, Timo Carrillo, G. Harry Starr. Delegates of the area will meet at Huntington Beach Sunday at 1:30 p. m. for a pre-convention caucus.

Because of the crowds that are attending the dances each Saturday night, plans are to arrange a cooling system for the Legion hall.

Co-operating with The Register and Stein's stationery store, the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow morning will admit free to a 9:30 performance as many Orange county boys and girls as the playhouse holds.

This is the second pre-fourth of July show sponsored by the three firms. Last year's program attracted a full house.

WOMAN MISSING SINCE APR. 15. MURDER FEARED

Sheriff's officers today were intent on following up an investigation of the mysterious disappearance of Helen Shelton, Seal Beach woman who has not been seen or heard of since April 15, when she disappeared from her home city.

Poul play is suspected, according to Under Sheriff C. W. Riggie, who is conducting the investigation, because of a number of facts which have come to light during the investigation. Charles Baker, 45, of Seal Beach, his daughter, Dorothy Baker, 18, and his 11-year-old son were questioned yesterday by officers in connection with the woman's disappearance. Baker and his daughter were held in the county jail yesterday pending investigation.

The woman was living with Baker in Seal Beach after coming to that city with him nine months ago, officers said. Because evidence showed she was extraordinarily fond of her two small children and from other evidence, officers are prone to believe she would not have voluntarily left them to the care of a man who was not her husband or without any means of support.

The case came to light when Baker applied to the welfare department for care of the children. Seal Beach officers then started an investigation and asked the assistance of the sheriff's office. A letter has been received from Mrs. Ed Kuttler of Kingfisher, Oklahoma, Helen Shelton's sister, which indicated the woman of whom no trace has been found, was offered a home for herself and the two children.

Another season officers have for suspecting foul play is that the woman left behind her all of her clothes and personal belongings, which included two Bibles which she read constantly.

Corps Members Selling Show Tickets Today

Intensive sale of tickets was the order of the day today in Santa Ana as members of the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps donned their uniforms and proceeded to canvass the downtown district, selling tickets to the Drum Corps Party tomorrow evening at the Santa Ana Bowl.

Proceeds of the event, after paying necessary expenses, go into the Drum Corps fund to help defray the costs of uniforms and to aid them in "carrying on" for the summer, during which they hope to take championship rank in three large veterans' conventions.

British radio experts have succeeded in using a captive balloon as a transmitting tower with the advantage that its height can be easily changed.

BROWNING IN FARM BUREAU CHAIRMANSHIP

Felton Browning, vice president of the Orange County Farm Bureau, yesterday was appointed chairman of the Farm Bureau Tax Committee, replacing Leroy S. Lyon, who resigned as chairman and member of the committee to become a candidate for supervisor. The appointment was made by the Ways and Means committee of the farm bureau.

Lyon's resignation was in compliance with the general unwritten policy of the farm bureau that when a committeeman or officer becomes a candidate for office he resigns from all committees or work which might conflict with the office he is seeking.

This policy was adopted by the farm bureau as that organization does not endorse nor support any candidate for public office.

The committee also authorized employment of Paul C. Etzold, Tustin citrus grower, as part-time assistant to R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the bureau. The employment was considered necessary through the committee's granting of the request of the Citrus Distribution Committee that a portion of Flaherty's services be loaned that group during the summer while working out the citrus proration program recently approved by grower-shipper organizations.

Because Leo L. Luckie apparently cared more for the navy than he did for his wife, Mrs. Helen G. Luckie, he will have an opportunity to remain with his first love. When the Luckies were married in San Francisco, on August 20, 1930, according to Mrs. Luckie, her husband told her his enlistment expired January 27, 1932 and that he would retire to civil life and make

FAIR CROP OF LIMA BEANS IS 1932 PROSPECT

With 22,752 of her broad acres planted in lima beans this year, a 21 per cent reduction under last year's acreage, Orange county today can look forward to "a fair crop" if the weather is right, according to prominent men of the industry.

A production of 10 to 14 hundred-pound sacks per acre is credited with being a fair crop.

The stand in most bean producing sections is good, but in others it is said to be spotty and light. Vines have not yet bloomed and no accurate crop estimates can be made until late in July, according to A. L. Snyder of the Greenville Bean Growers' association and an inspector for the California Bean Growers' association.

Of the total acreage approximately 12,000 are located on the Irvine ranch, where last year's crop was declared by James Irvine to have been the poorest in the history of the ranch. The crop in general was poor last year, and that is believed to have influenced this year's reduction in acreage.

Between 8000 and 10,000 of the county's bean acreage is cultivated under the dry land farming system and faces particular peril from the fact that spring rains stopped early and the possibility of long periods of excessive hot weather. Should the weather turn wrong fear is expressed that this dry land acreage will again be a failure, it was indicated today.

He spent New Year day, last, with his wife in Santa Ana and left to return to duty with his ship and that is the last time she ever saw him, the complaint recites. The next word she had from him was when she learned he had re-enlisted a short time later.

She also charges that after his re-enlistment he failed to provide her with money until she took the matter up with his commanding officer in San Diego last April and secured $30 allotment of his pay.

CRUICKSHANK, IN SPEECH AT KIWANIS MEETING, DENIES THE CLAIM BANKS ARE NOT LOANING

A flat-footed denial of the statement, "the banks are not loaning," was made in an address by A. J. Cruickshank, president of the First National Bank of Santa Ana, in an illuminating address on the nation's financial set-up before the Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

"This is not true in regard to the banks," said Mr. Cruickshank. "Banks as a whole are loaning, but perhaps are more careful as to securities loaned on. Severe criticism is particularly made on the big city banks for either calling loans or requiring additional collateral, but the facts are they are doing nothing different than heretofore.

"The city banks whose loans are largely based on collateral always did require proper margin, and when the margin dropped below safety, additional security was called for. There has been no change in their policy. Securities having dropped to an unusual low level the banks necessarily had to either get additional security or charge the difference off to profit and loss, and no bank authority will allow a bank to carry undermargin notes, where the notes depend entirely on security."

Defends Own Bank
Speaking for his own bank Mr. Cruickshank said: "I have loaned as freely on productive activity as ever, and no forced payments on loans have been made where the borrower was willing to cooperate. We have not hesitated to use our borrowing power to take care of such needs, and any individual or newspaper circulating information to the contrary is only adding a destructive influence and prolonging the period of lack of confidence, and lack of confidence is really our greatest obstacle to overcome. With confidence restored we will soon see inactivity in business, and unemployment at an end."

Breaking away from its usual procedure the Kiwanis club had met at the plant of the National Cement Pipe Company where dinner was served in the company garage by Ketter's Cafe. The club was the guest of George Wells, an official of the cement pipe company, who arranged the program and introduced Mr. Cruickshank. Announcement was made at the meeting that the annual Kiwanis family picnic will be held at Irvine park next Monday afternoon beginning with a baseball game at 4 p. m. between the "firsts" and the "leaves," sustained with a barbecue dinner served by Jim Raitt, and closing with a dance.

In his review of the national financial set-up, Mr. Cruickshank dwelt especially on business recovery legislation, particularly the National Credit Corporation, The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Gold-Sterling Bill, and the proposed Home Loan Banks bill which he predicted will be enacted by congress.

Relief Plans Fails
The National Credit Corporation was organized with a capital of one billion dollars, and was intended to liberalize the federal reserve act and increase paid-in capital of Federal Land Banks. This corporation failed to relieve the financial situation except to transfer credits from one bank to another and no additional capital was furnished to the banks. Its place was taken by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation with a paid capital of $50,000,000 by the United States government, he said. The purpose of this corporation is to loan money for periods not to exceed three years direct to banks, loans and credit corporations provided that not in excess of $200,000,000 is loaned to closed banks or those in the process of liquidation. It is also authorized to make loans to railroads. In addition to the capital of the corporation it is authorized to issue debenture bonds which are eligible to be purchased by the government.

"The doctrine of the Gold-Sterling Bill," Mr. Cruickshank said, "is that the Federal Reserve Banks should stabilize commodity prices. Many of us think the Federal Reserve Banks have trouble enough in stabilizing the money market. It proposed that the Federal Reserve Bank's credit policies should be guided by commodity prices as measured by the Bureau of Labor statistics to the average levels of 1921-29.

The proposed Home Loan Banks, he indicated, are to be financed by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and are for the purpose of adding home owners in building houses or taking care of old encumbrances.

Explains Inside Workings
Discussing the Gold-Sterling Bill Mr. Cruickshank gave an inside picture of the workings of the Federal Reserve Bank when he said: "The bank will loan only on self-liquidating paper, such as notes of horticulturists, agriculturists and merchants, and for handling commodities, and those loans can only be made through banks who have to guarantee the paper. Statements of the individual or corporation must have quick assets of, generally speaking, two to one, and must also show sufficient income to liquidate the paper within the term. Paper may be eligible but not acceptable because of the fact it is not self-liquidating. Loans also may be made by Federal Reserve Banks based on government securities, but only for a period of 15 days each; no loans can be on stocks, bonds, or real estate mortgages."

He pointed out that one of the changes in regulations under the act since its enactment provides for acceptance of local fruit exchange paper, he said.
Mr. Cruickshank held it to be unlikely that the United States will go off the gold standard and revealed that in recent months when France was constantly threatening to recall her gold reserves from American banks,

TWO ARE HELD FOR CIGARETTE THEFT MAY 13

If Edward J. McAdoo and Marion Eckroat are a bit superstitious about the number 13, they may be wondering today as they sit in the county jail to await trial on burglary charges, if a 13th day was not a poor day to rob the Smart and Final warehouse of nearly $2000 worth of cigarettes, as they are charged with doing.

Both men, who live in Orange, were arraigned before Judge Kenneth E. Morrison in the justice court Tuesday and were held to answer to the superior court on the charge. Bail of $5000 was demanded of each, which was not made and they were committed to the county jail to await trial.

The case against George McAdoo, brother of Edward McAdoo, who was arrested at the same time as the other two alleged bandits, was dismissed by Judge Morrison on the grounds that there was insufficient evidence against him to hold him to trial. George McAdoo was employed by the Smart and Final company and worked as a night watchman at the warehouse. He was working there the night of May 13 when the robbery was committed and at first was believed to have participated in the affair, according to statements previously made by city officials who arrested the trio.

George McAdoo was represented in court by Attorney Dave Wetlin, while Marion Eckroat was represented by Attorney W. Maxwell Burke. Edward McAdoo had no counsel.
A confession to the burglary has been obtained from Edward McAdoo, according to information which was given out by police.

NEW SPONSOR FOR FEATURED KREG PROGRAM

Studio officials of radio KREG announced today that "The Little Church of the Wildwood," one of the most popular of the daily features on the station will be sponsored in the future by Central Memorial Park Ltd. Started more than a year ago this radio feature has without doubt become one of the most popular features of the daily broadcast. Membership in the church numbers people from all over Southern California and recently when this membership held its annual picnic in Birch Park there were more than 200 people present.

Central Memorial Park Ltd. is non-sectarian and is being developed along the most modern and approved park lines. When fully developed it will be one of the most beautiful cemeteries in the entire state. The park is centrally located on Huntington Beach boulevard, six miles west of Santa Ana, 6 miles north of Huntington Beach and 12 miles southeast of Long Beach.

Central Memorial Park is operated under a state charter insuring permanence to lot owners and the purchase price of lots included perpetual care. Twenty-five per cent of the purchase price of each lot is placed with a trust in the Western Trust and Savings Bank of Long Beach, to create a fund sufficiently large to provide perpetual care for every lot without necessitating use of the principal of the trust.

Organized in 1924, Central Memorial Park was taken over on April 15, 1930 by the present stockholders, well-known professional and business men. Charles A. Whitte, vice-president and general manager of Central Memorial Park is directly in charge of development of the site and has headed the work of planning this beautiful place. Landscaped by an expert the park offers a system of permanent drives constructed of heavy slag for foundations and surfaced with a finer grade of rock.

The first crematory constructed in Orange county is located at Memorial Park. It is located west of the office in a quiet and attractive section of the grounds with its own "Garden of Memories" set aside for interment of ashes. A separate chapel is another feature of the crematory.

Whitte, vice-president and manager of the cemetery, was trained in landscaping and nursery culture in Chicago and was later assistant superintendent of public parks in the city of Lowell, Mass. Since that time he has been conducting landscape architects for many cemeteries, parks and private estates.

Coming to California in 1913 Whitte entered park and forestry work with the Los Angeles county forester and later became secretary and manager for the San Gabriel Cemetery and developed that site into one of the most beautiful in the southland.

OMIT SERVICES
GARDEN GROVE, June 23.—Owing to the yearly meeting of the Friends church at Whitte this week, there will be no Sunday services at the Alamitos Friends church.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning 'Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

This means Chesterfields aren't harsh. It means they're not strong or heavy.

AM, FICKLE WORLD
Cleveland fans boomed when Pitcher George Connally spent five minutes trying to catch Tony Lazzeri off second base. Then, suddenly, Connally did catch Lazzeri. And everybody cheered good old George Connally for being a right feisty pitcher.

THE RUTH AUTOGRAPH
Now that players in the American league are forbidden to associate with the customers, how does Babe Ruth manage to take care of his public demand for autographs? The answer is that Babe usually leaves the field before the game is over, Hoag taking his place. And after the game, he is always the center of a crowd seeking his signature.

WEDDING BELLS
Russell Chapman of Bates college looked as an Olympic middle distance potentiality. But then Russell got married the other day and forsook the track. His coach, Roy Thompson, says "It's a darned shame, but just one of those things."

THE WILSON HOMER
It would be odd if a home run by Hack Wilson decided the National league pennant race for 1932. Hack got a homer recently with the bases full, and who was pitching? None other than Pat Malone, "Hacks" old pal of the Cubs' staff. The homer broke up the ball game, and one game may mean a flag this year in the National.

THERE'S MONEY LEFT
There still must be some money around. More than 25,000 people paid $45,000 to see "Strangler" Lewis and Dick Shikat wrestle in Madison Square Garden's new bowl at Long Island City. The top prize was $5,500 which is about what the top should have been for Schmeling-Sharkey.

WATCH JURADO
The National Open cup may take its first trip to South America this year. Jose Jurado, nine times open champion of the Argentine, is the threat. Jurado's game is sound and consistent, and if Sarazen cools off, Jose may step in and do to United States golfers what United States golfers have been doing for years to the British.

MAN O' WAR'S KIDS
Old Papa Man o' War, reading the Racing Form at his quiet

home in Lexington, must find pleasure when he comes across the names of Bostwain and Argosie. They are his kids, and are showing fight to the best 3-year-olds on the track this year.

IN WRONG LEAGUE
Mr. George Moriarty, the umpire, is in the wrong league. Think of the fun George would have had in that free-for-all between the Cubs and Robins the other day! The return match between the two teams will be staged in Chicago. Watch for it!

METCALFE'S SPEECH
Ralph Metcalfe, the Marquette Shadow who is regarded as sure to win one or two Olympic events after his recent sensational races, evidently is majoring in English at Marquette. In a radio address, he said, "I will endeavor to make every effort to try to win out there in California." And, folks, you'll have to admit the young man is going to give the Olympics the old college try.

IT'S A HOT LEAGUE
The Cincinnati nine's plunge from third place to the cellar shows clearly what a tight race the National league is having. Cincinnati dropped ten in a row to the Pirates, Cardinals, Giants and Phils, but at the end of the streak still were only eight games out of first place.

In the American league there is approximately that margin between the first and second place clubs. Incidentally, five of those ten straight defeats the Reds suffered were by a margin of one run.

DUSTING 'EM OFF
The bad blood between the Cubs and Dodgers really arose from the alleged craving of Cub pitchers to "dust off" Brooklyn batsmen. It started last season.

The Cubs piled up a 12-0 lead against "Dazzy" Vance, Charley Root, Cub pitcher, finding time heavy on his hands, entertained himself by heaving the ball at the Dodger batsmen for the fun of seeing them dodge.

Pat Malone was charged with the same tactics in a recent series. He dusted off Lopez so well that the Brooklyn catcher took a base on balls. And Jackie May, who relieved Malone a short time later, hit Mickey Finn with his first pitched ball.

"It's just like being in the Argentine," was "Lefty" O'Doul's comment.

Further details of the annual Santa Ana city tennis championships were made public today by L. W. Archer, director of public playgrounds, and Merle Ewell, director of the tennis division.

Entries will close tomorrow at 5 p. m. They may be made either at Hawley's sporting goods store, phone 165, or Neal's sporting goods store, phone 830. The fee is 75 cents.

Class A round-robin play will begin Monday, Class B Tuesday. First week pairings will be announced in The Register Saturday. All matches will be scheduled in advance.

A $15 racket, donated by Hawley's, will go to the winner; a $7 racket, donated by Neal's, to the runner-up, and a $5 billiard, donated by the city, to the third place winner.

Matches will be played on the Frances Willard courts, beginning at 5 p. m. High school and junior college entrants will be ranked in Class A or B according to ability. Every "A" must be prepared to furnish at least one new ball for each match, with a vote of all the "A" players determining the official type of ball to be used throughout the tournament.

Class B men must use balls that have not been employed in more than one set. Ewell said these rules were drafted after questionnaires were sent approximately 75 Santa Ana netmen.

The city tournament is open to anybody in the Santa Ana vicinity. As in other seasons, it is a round-robin, every entrant meeting every other entrant and the champions determined accordingly on a percentage basis as in league baseball.

Title At Stake In City Loop Finale

AL'S SERVICE, M'MILLAN GAS CLASH TONIGHT

With the championship virtually at stake, the first half of the Santa Ana City league's baseball schedule will be completed at the Bowl tonight. And in the early half of a doubleheader, the second half will get under way.

The 7 o'clock contest between the Green Cat Cafe and J. C. Penney company formerly open the second half. The "Cats" will have one eye on the afterpiece, but are favored to get away to a running start in the new season, too.

Last night's doubleheader gave the Red and White Stores an easy 19-1 victory over the fourth-place Santa Ana Elks, and the Holy Name society a 9-8 decision over Weber's bakery in 8 innings.

The Elks, a fourth place club, were held helpless by Stevens while the Reds and Whites were mauling Sullivan, Miller and Linsendard for 21 hits. The Elks finished by pushing Horace Snow to stop the massacre and the batsmen's performance. The Milwaukee ran two miles in the excellent time of 9 minutes 36.7 seconds and, in doing it, beat Henry Brooksmith of Indiana to the finish line.

fact that Brooksmith previously had pushed Cunningham of Kansas to a record-breaking mile in 4:11.1, should detract little from Shugert's performance. The Milwaukee ran two miles in the excellent time of 9 minutes 36.7 seconds and, in doing it, beat Henry Brooksmith of Indiana to the finish line.

BOB WEAVER, GAMES CHIEF, HERE FRIDAY

Bob Weaver, general representative of the Olympic Games and one of the A. A. U. officials who had much to do with bringing the 1932 Olympiad to Los Angeles, will address the gathering of First National Associates at the First National bank tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. President Dean Collier announced today.

Weaver will discuss the coming Games, and sketch briefly the job that confronted officials when they began preparing for the classic four years ago.

And as for Schmeling himself. He may be the world's finest sportsman, but this bureau never has been able to see him in that light. Our suspicions were aroused by his treatment of Arthur Bulow, his former manager. It was Bulow who started Max off on the road to heavy sugar and fame. It was Bulow who got discarded like last week's shirt.

These suspicions were increased by Maxie's attitude after his first fight with Sharkey.

You remember he won the fight sitting on the floor, rubbing his stomach and giving off great cries of pain. As Sharkey had been winning until he uncorked the foul blow, there was a great public demand for a return go. But did Schmeling heed this clamor for a second match? Yes, but two years later when it was fight Sharkey or starve. If this were true sportsmanship, then I'm Baroness Levi.

Mind you, this corner holds no brief for Sharkey. But it can't see the sense nor the logic in holding up Schmeling as an outraged sportsman.

If the boys must moan over what they consider a robbery, let them choose another angle. To me the most distressing part of Sharkey's victory is the fact that it will result in a flood of Sharkey literature, in which the Sharkey man's life, from cradle to 1932, will be told over and over again. And, not only stories, but pictures.

Real Headache Coming
For the next six months the nation will be smothered, much after the manner of a steak with onions, with pictures of Sharkey around

OLYMPIC HOPES

by CLAUDE BURCKY

Among the unheralded heroes in an efficient way and lopped off almost two seconds from the previous best time.

Shubert is a veteran campaigner, although his reputation as a runner was little known outside of Ohio before the national collegiates. He held state titles and records in both the mile and two-mile and for three years led the Ohio cross-country field. He had never been pushed in Ohio races, but his coaches held the belief that he could run near record time against stiff competition.

This was proved at Chicago. The Olympic distance of 5000 meters is approximately three miles and 185 yards. Shubert's success at cross-country distances of five and six miles would indicate he can move up to that distance without slackening his pace.

Wood bout Andre Gentien of France, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, in the fourth round match.

John Van Ryn was the first of the six Americans contesting for the singles title to fall. He was defeated by Fred Perry, British Davis Cup star, 6-2, 6-4, 6-0. Perry's superior accuracy in placing shots earned him victory.

Gregory Mangin and Wilmer Allison advanced to the fifth round of the men's singles competition with comparative ease. Allison's beautiful placements and service superiority prevailed over the tireless energy of Ruyki Miki, Japanese, and the American won, 6-3, 6-0, 2-6, 6-1.

Cochet's overhand drop shots and cannonball service proved too much for Edward Avory of England, 7-5, 6-1, 6-4.

In Collins, conqueror of Henri Cochet, was eliminated in the fourth round by Hiro Satoh, Japanese Davis Cup star, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

Jean Borotra of France coasted to victory over Harold Lee of Great Britain, 6-2, 7-6, 6-1.

Helen Jacobs of California and Sarah Palfrey of Boston joined Helen Wills Moody in the bracket of 16 players left in the running for the women's singles title.

Miss Jacobs defeated Mrs. D. C. Shepherd-Barron of England, 6-2, 6-2, while Miss Palfrey won from Olga Webb, also of England, by scores of 6-2, 6-3. Mrs. Moody along with Madame Rene Mathieu of France advanced to the fifth round yesterday.

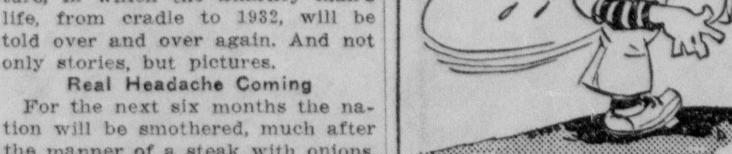

Mrs. S. A. Burke became the second American eliminated in the tournament when she lost a 4-6, 6-3, 6-3 decision to Mlle. Metaxa of France in the fourth round. Mrs. L. A. Harper was eliminated yesterday.

The party arriving today numbered 228. They will be housed at Bowles hall and International house on the university campus.

JAP OLYMPIC SQUAD OFF FOR CALIFORNIA

AMERICAN NET AGES ALL WIN AT WIMBLEDON

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 23.—(UP)—Frank Shields of the United States, one of the favorites for the British National singles championship, narrowly averted elimination today when he staged a great uphill battle to defeat Edward Andrews of New Zealand, 4-6, 13-15, 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

Time after time the New Zealand star had Shields on the verge of defeat. In the fourth set Andrews was leading, 5-3, and was within two points of victory when the American Davis Cup player braced and ran out the set.

The match lasted for two and three-quarters hours. By virtue of his victory, Shields joined Sidney Wood, Gregory Mangin, Ellsworth Vines and Wilmer Allison among the 16 contestants remaining in the running for the singles title.

Vines Outclasses Hopman
Vines, America's temperamental champion, defeated Harry Hopman, Australian Davis Cup star, 7-5, 6-2, 7-5, in his fourth round match. Vines so completely outclassed his opponent that the large crowd surrounding the center court showed little enthusiasm.

Wood bout Andre Gentien of France, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, in the fourth round match.

John Van Ryn was the first of the six Americans contesting for the singles title to fall. He was defeated by Fred Perry, British Davis Cup star, 6-2, 6-4, 6-0. Perry's superior accuracy in placing shots earned him victory.

Trojans Hail Ablovich As 440 Prospect
LOS ANGELES, June 23.—If Edgar Ablovich, sophomore quarter-miler of the University of Southern California track squad, keeps on improving in his event he may prove a surprise to the many Eastern stars who are entering in the 440 in the I. C. A. A. A. championships July 1 and 2 at Berkeley.

Exclusive of relays and heats, Ablovich has run only five competitive races in his event but in each one he has steadily cut down his time. Starting with a 49.6-second race in the California meet April 2, he has bettered his mark every time, running the 400-meter distance last Saturday in the Southwest Olympic trials in 48 flat and nosing out Art Woessner, S. C.'s ace at this event, by an inch.

Ablovich has an unusually powerful build for a track man. He is six feet in height and weighed 185 pounds at the start of the season although he is down to 170 now. He was a hurdler in high school and was switched to the 440 this season, because Coach Dean Cromwell had plenty of good barrier men on his squad and needed more quarter-milers.

Ablovich now much prefers the 440-yard distance to hurdling and believes he is better suited for it than his old event. As he is only 18 years of age, he is a splendid prospect for the Trojans for the next two years.

Reveal Players On Legion Post Ball Club

Santa Ana American Legionnaires today made public the list of "grand old men" who will represent post No. 131 against Anaheim's "G. A. R." in a "grudge" baseball game at the Bowl here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The roster includes Horace Snow, George Lackaye, Bill Cole, Bill Foster, Harold Rasmussen, "Buck" Finks, "Jug" Walters, Sid Allender, Joe Irvine, Ed ("Goose" Goslin) Lacy, Bert West, Steve Duhart, George Sullivan, Harry Welch, Bert Castex, Glen Cane, Frank Hansbarger, Archie Snodgrass and Maurice Enderle. When these veterans expire, some of the post's "rookies," as yet unlisted, will be pressed into service.

Anaheim is keeping its players shrouded in mystery but promises to bring to the Bowl a lineup that'll make Santa Ana's post resign its charter.

The "game" will feature a demonstration by five crack batters and four drill teams. Proceeds will be used to help Santa Ana post send its squad to coast and national contests.

GARDEN PLANS NEW SHARKEY, SCHMELING GO
NEW YORK, June 23.—(UP)—Madison Square Garden is planning a thick fight between Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling to settle definitely the heated controversy over their supremacy.

James J. Johnston, director of boxing at the Garden, announced he would begin work immediately to bring the two boxers back into the bowl at Long Island City where Sharkey won the heavyweight championship from Schmeling Tuesday night.

Johnston said he hoped the match might be arranged for September, but if the new champion refuses to meet Schmeling then, he was confident they would fight it out next summer. This third match proposal seems to be the only important aftermath of the hullabaloo over the questionable decision.

Jack Sharkey is heavyweight champion of the world and will continue to be regarded so, the New York state athletic commission announced, despite charges by Schmeling's manager and criticism by the press.

Bert Stand, secretary of the commission, said no official investigation of the Long Island decision has been asked, and that none would be made.

"It's a closed case," explained Stand. "All this talk in the papers and among the fans is merely the usual bunk which follows any championship bout not settled by a clean knockout."

The commission's attitude came as a surprise to many Schmeling supporters in New York, who thought an immediate investigation would follow manager Joe Jacobs' charges that Schmeling had been "robbed" of the title.

William Muldoon of the commission said he thought the bout should have been a draw, but that the decision was made honestly and it would stand. General John J. Phelan, the other member of the commission who saw the bout, said the decision was correct and the commission would back the award.

RENO TO OFFER SCHMELING $100,000 FOR BOUT
RENO, Nev., June 23.—(UP)—Leonard Sachs, business manager for Jack Dempsey, today expected to offer Max Schmeling, defeated world heavyweight champion, $100,000 to meet the winner of the Max Baer-King Levinsky heavyweight bout here July 4.

Sachs several days ago made a similar offer to Jack Sharkey, who dethroned the German heavyweight Tuesday night, but up to this morning had heard nothing from the Boston go.

Should Schmeling accept Sachs' offer, plans will be made to enlarge the stadium here to seat 40,000. Sachs would stage the bout Labor Day, he said. Dempsey, Sachs' partner in his promotional activities, would referee the bout.

Rumors that Dempsey may seek a bout with Schmeling as a climax to his recent "comeback" tour were without confirmation today. Dempsey was understood to be in Los Angeles and could not be reached.

DIEGEL, JURADO, TRAIL BEHIND BRENTWOOD ACE

FRESH MEADOW COUNTRY CLUB, Flushing, N. Y., June 23.—(UP)—Olin Dutra, of California, took the lead in the National Open golf championship today, scoring a 69, one below par on his first round.

Dutra went out in 36, one over par, and was home in 33, two below. A large gallery formed behind him when word of the brilliant round he was shooting got about the course.

Dutra, who is 15 months younger than his more famous brother, Mortie Dutra, had no serious trouble on the outward nine except at the first hole where he slipped one stroke over par. He was even par at the next eight.

He got a par in starting the brilliant second round and followed with a pair of threes, the second of which was a birdie. The next three holes were also played 4-3-3 for a birdie on the 11th. The remaining holes were parred at 5-4-4.

Displaces Leo Diegel
Dutra took the play away from Leo Diegel of Mexico who had a 73 to lead the field among the early finishers.

Here were the leaders with approximately half of the first rounds complete:
Dutra, 69; Diegel, 73; Gene Sarazen, 74; Jose Jurado, 74; Walter Hagen, 75; Billy Burke, defending champion, 75.

Diegel went out in 36, one stroke past par, and came home in 37, two over.

His unorthodox putting style served him well and his approach, the most important part of the play on this tricky course, often left him shooting for birdies.

The early starters had a weather advantage, for a spanking west wind came up shortly before noon and seemed to be increasing. There was a brilliant sun and except for the wind, weather conditions were perfect.

DOG TRACK OPENING DRAWS 15,000 FANS

CULVER CITY, June 23.—(UP)—Nearly 15,000 persons, twice as many as were expected, witnessed the debut of greyhound racing at the new Culver City dog track last night.

The puppies ran true to form. Only once did the hounds halt with the mechanical rabbit within inches of their outstretched mouths. Jew Doctor, a "long shot," and Tanglefoot But forgot the bunny as they neared the tape and engaged in spirited battle.

Option letting was presented for the first time in Southern California, and the booths were well patronized.

Traffic Marshall, son of Traffic Officer, won the feature race at three-sixteenths of a mile. My Laddie was second, Kitty Darling third.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

by Laura Lou BROOKMAN

Cherry Dixon, 19 and pretty, tells her mother she is going to a club meeting but instead meets Dan Phillips, newspaper reporter with whom she is in love. Her wealthy parents do not know she is acquainted with Dan. Cherry goes with him to interview a bank robber's sweetheart. She blunders into underworld headquarters and a bullet strikes her arm. Dan takes her to a doctor's office and then home. He is trying to explain what has happened when Mr. Dixon appears. He is very angry and brandishes a newspaper containing Cherry's picture and an account of the shooting. Mr. Dixon orders Dan from the house.

Dan's pass and Sarah, Cherry's maid, discovers Dan has telephoned and been told the girl is out of town. Cherry steals out of the house, meets Dan and explains. She tells her father is waiting for her. When Cherry arrives home her father is waiting and accuses her of having met the reporter. Cherry defies her father and he orders her to apologize or leave. She says, "I'll go!" and runs out of the house. Later that evening she finds Dan and tells him what has happened. He offers to take her to a friend's home but Cherry says, "Let's get married. Tonight!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER IX

They were married a little before 10:30 that night by a justice of the peace in a dingy room of the court house. Bill Pringle, who covered court house news and a man neither Cherry nor Dan had ever seen before, were the witnesses. Dan had appealed to Pringle to help locate the clerk of courts to issue the license.

It was a ceremony entirely without sentiment or any element of the sacred. A few words mumbled in a wheezing, half-audible monotone. Cherry, rather pale, still wearing the polo coat and her small brown hat. Dan's "I do" ringing clear and loud in the stillness. Except for the small group in the clerk's office and two old men scrubbing the floor of the central corridor the court house seemed deserted.

"I hereby pronounce you a man and wife" rang out the justice.

That was all there was to it. They were married! Dan placed a folded bill in the official's hand. He drew Cherry toward him and kissed her. There was some joking that the bride scarcely heard. Then she and Dan were outside in the night. Bill Pringle stood beside them on the steps.

"Well," he said gaily, "now for the honeymoon! You want a cab, don't you?"

He held up two fingers, whistled shrilly and a cab that had been cruising down the opposite side of the street swerved to the curb.

Dan and Cherry got into the cab. Pringle waved and disappeared down the street.

"The Bismark hotel," Dan instructed the cab driver. He said to Cherry, "It's all right, isn't it? We'll find some place you like better in a day or two."

"It's all right, Dan. Of course."

The Bismark was less than a dozen blocks away. The streets seemed singularly quiet, for it was still early. In the darkness of the cab Cherry's face was barely visible. A misty blur of whiteness. Dan's arms gathered her close.

"You darling!" he whispered.

She raised her lips for the kiss but at that moment the glaring rays of a street lamp sheathed them with yellow electricity. The cab halted for a traffic signal.

Happily the girl smiled up at him. "My—husband." She said the words as though they were a litany.

Dan's arm tightened. "You're going to be happy!" he said almost sternly. "We're going to make a go of it, Cherry. I know I don't deserve anyone half so sweet and fine as you are but I'm going to make you happy! Oh, you're so wonderful!"

The ecstasy was interrupted abruptly as the cab jolted to a stop. Cherry, stepping to the sidewalk, could scarcely believe that she was the same girl who two hours earlier had left the hotel, frightened and miserable. She glanced at Dan and thought how handsome and dependable he looked.

And he was her husband!

"Cap" Graham was still on duty at the hotel desk and Dan led Cherry forward.

"I'd like to introduce an old friend," he said. "This is Mr. Graham. Generally known as 'Cap.' Cap—I want you to know my wife."

"What? Say—I'm glad to meet you, Ma'am. But this is a surprise! Why—why, for mercy sake! Ain't you the one who was here a while ago? I mean—say—"

Phillips grinned. "Take it easy, Cap. And aren't you going to congratulate me. You're the first one to hear the news."

"You mean you've just been married? Well, say—I is it really true?"

"Certainly it's true."

"Well, I declare. She's a pretty one, she is, though. And you've picked a good husband, too, Ma'am." The old man assured Cherry. "One of the finest. I want to congratulate both of you. Yes, sir. Indeed I do!"

The outer door opened and Dan turned. At his half-smothered exclamation Cherry whirled about.

A dozen men and women, laughing and calling out gaily, crowded into the hotel. They swarmed about Dan and Cherry. Bill Pringle appeared to be in the lead.

"Here they are!" the court house reporter cried. "Here's the bride and bridegroom. Look at 'em blushing, folks! Who's going to be first to kiss the bride?"

Dan stepped out, smiling.

"Just a minute," he protested. "Say, what is this anyhow?"

"We've come to help you celebrate," put in a small girl wearing a green hat. "We're all going out to Casey's and we're going to take you with us. For goodness sake, Dan, introduce us, can't you?"

Phillips turned to Cherry. "Half-wits," he said, grinning, "but they're harmless. My confreres of the well-known News."

"Well, gang," he faced the newcomers, "this is certainly a surprise—"

"How about the surprise you pulled?" a husky voice called out. Others chorused, "Speech! Speech!"

"Nobody wants speeches," the girl in the green hat protested. "This is supposed to be a party—"

Dan raised a hand. "Ladies and gentlemen," he began, "allow me to present the one and only Mrs. Daniel Phillips, who has so graciously consented to bear the name and share the ancestral fortune of the house of Phillips—$9,151! He pulled out a trouser pocket, turning it inside. "Give 'em a bow, Cherry. That's the girl!"

There were cheers and applause. In a few moments all of them were outside. Cherry found herself wedged into the rear seat of an automobile intended for five passengers and carrying eight. Dan was beside her and on the other side the girl in the green hat whose name was Dixie Shannon. The name sounded familiar and Cherry was sure she had seen it somewhere. She learned almost immediately that Dixie wrote motion picture reviews for the News.

Dixie was a friendly soul. "See a picture with me some time," she invited. "Any day you want. I'm always at the office around 10 o'clock. You can call me there."

Cherry, a trifle bewildered, agreed. All of these strangers who laughed and joked and said such odd things were Dan's friends. She was sure they were trying to be cordial but she felt timid. Some of the things they said she scarcely understood. When Dan joined in the joking it made him seem almost a stranger, too.

A half hour's ride brought them to a large apartment house. The Caseys lived on the second floor. By elevator and staircase the crowd of 14 arrived at the door almost at the same time.

Casey, so Dan informed Cherry, was telegraph editor of the News. A minute later she was being introduced to Mr. Casey himself.

She liked him instantly for his gray hair and crinkly blue eyes and the way that he smiled at her. She liked Mrs. Casey, too, when she appeared a moment later. Mrs. Casey was plump and very pretty. Apparently impromptu parties at the Caseys were no novelty.

"Trying to steal a march on us, were you?" Casey demanded of Dan. "Well, we couldn't let you get away with it. Lucky devil you are though. Going to let me kiss the bride?"

He did and somehow Cherry didn't mind.

An angular youth in a dark suit had seated himself at a piano. Now he was crashing out the opening chords of the Lohengrin march.

Cherry looked about for Dan and could not find him. Bill Pringle came up, grinning. "Well," he asked, "did we surprise you?"

"Oh, you certainly did! I've never been more surprised in my life. I don't see how you managed it."

"Easy," Bill told her. "As soon as I got hold of Fredericks (the clerk who had issued the license), I telephoned Shannon and Casey. They got the rest together and met at the office. When I knew you'd gone back to the Bismark I gave them a call. Preeto—that's all there was to it!"

The young man at the piano had been persuaded to abandon Lohengrin to provide accompaniment for a quartette. The singers' voices had more to recommend them in the way of volume than in tone. The quartette attempted "Oh, Promise Me," but gave it up abruptly for "Call Me Sweetheart." They liked this so well that they sang it twice.

There were four young women in the crowd besides Dixie Shannon. Two were the wives of reporters. A slim girl with red hair cut short and wearing a tailored tweed suit was introduced as Doris Ware. Someone told Cherry that Doris covered news assignments on an equal footing with the men and was considered one of the best feature writers in Wellington. Cherry was not sure she liked her. She thought Miss Ware rather reserved.

The fourth girl was Connie Randolph from the society department. A tall, slender brunet whose black satin frock outlined her figure frankly. She had barely shaken hands with Cherry and then drifted away.

Suddenly Cherry saw that rugs had been pulled back in the next room and that couples were dancing.

She looked about again, rather anxiously, for Dan.

There he was sitting in the far corner beside Connie Randolph. They seemed to be in earnest conversation.

Dixie Shannon's gaze followed Cherry's. "Don't mind Connie," Dixie said in an undertone. "She's the office vamp but nobody takes her seriously. Connie was missing when they passed out the brains—and she's been missing ever since!"

Louder she said, "Bill, will you tell Dan we want him over here. Tell him to make it pronto." The words were casual but Cherry thought that beneath this assumed air Dixie was displeased.

Casey appeared bearing a tray with glasses and a plate of sandwiches. There was an instant chorus of applause. Bill Pringle complied with Dixie's instructions and a moment later Dan reached Cherry's side.

"Getting acquainted?" he asked, smiling. "They're a great bunch, Cherry. You'll be crazy about them all. Would it be too much of a favor to ask my wife if she'd have the next dance with me?"

Cherry flushed with pleasure as she arose. An orchestra half way across the continent was playing a melodic German waltz. The notes floated out sweet and clear from the radio. Dan and Cherry had never danced together before but their steps matched perfectly.

Dan whispered, "The next time we pass that door slip through it. We're going to make a getaway. Mrs. Casey will help us."

Five minutes later they were hurrying down a rear stairway. Another five minutes and Dan was helping Cherry into a taxicab. As the cab rolled along through the darkness Cherry thought, "This can't really be me! I can't believe so much could happen in 24 hours."

Fortunate for her that she could not foresee the next 24 hours.

HERE ARE THE FACTS

—A STATEMENT BY THE GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY

In its recent confession the Gillette Safety Razor Company told you that, under the stress of introducing a new razor and blade, uniformity had suffered; and told you how our efforts to correct the trouble had resulted in the development of a far superior product.

Several readers have asked us how we can make the bold, positive statement that today's Gillette blades are the sharpest, smoothest-shaving blades we have ever produced. This is a fair question, and here is our reply: A marvelous new testing machine, recently developed, scientifically proves that these blades have never before been approached in keenness.

We cannot discuss the nature or details of this machine because it is being patented. But we can tell you that it measures microscopic dimensions with unfailing accuracy—revealing with mathematic exactness, actual degrees of razor-blade sharpness. So when we state that today's Gillette blades are the sharpest we have ever made we are basing our assertion upon

The Gillette Blue Super-Blade

The $2 Kroman De Luxe blade has been withdrawn from production. We offer the Blue Super-Blade as its successor. This sensational blade is far superior to the Kroman and costs considerably less. You pay only a few cents more than for the regular blade and get unmatched shaving comfort. Its extraordinary shaving performance will convince you that the Blue Blade is the sharpest ever produced. A blue color has been applied to the blade for easy identification. It is contained in a blue package, Cellophane wrapped.

fact. We know we are right and can prove it.

Further than this—everyone knows that a razor blade must be able to bend without cracking when tightened in the holder. This requires steel of a certain temper not suitable for a keen cutting edge. The problem is to permit flexing and yet have a hard edge that can be ground and stropped for proper shaving performance. Gillette has achieved the solution of this problem in the manufacture of its slotted blades.* These blades are made by a special tempering process that makes the edges exceptionally hard, while the center, of a different temper, flexes easily.

We urge you to try today's Gillette blades—the regular blade in the familiar green package or the BLUE SUPER-BLADE in its blue package, Cellophane wrapped. Do so without risking a cent. If you don't agree they are the sharpest, smoothest-shaving blades you have ever used, return the package and your dealer will refund your money.

Victim Of Parade Prank Sues Nearly All Anaheim

SCORES BECOME DEFENDANTS IN SHEWBERT CASE

Accusing trustees of the City of Anaheim and officers and directors of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce with negligence in the selection of riders and their supervision during a parade in that city, Mrs. Jennie Shewbert and her husband, John Shewbert, yesterday filed suit in superior court demanding $12,700 for injuries to Mrs. Shewbert on October 30, 1931.

Defendants named in the suit were the City of Anaheim; L. E. Miller, Fred Koese, M. W. Martin Jr., Leo J. Sheridan and Jacob Lakeman as individuals and trustees of the city; the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, Charles Pearson, H. A. Hawley, George W. Reid, H. E. W. Barnes, William Dolan, Augusta Eltiste, Leonard Evans, E. C. Kendrick, Lotus H. Loudon, Harry Pearson, Fred Robins, Paul Tedrick, Don Winans, F. A. Youngbluth and two unnamed parties as individuals and officers and directors of the chamber of commerce, E. D. Griggs and others.

The action is the aftermath of the Halloween celebration held in the Mother Colony last October 30 and sponsored by the city and chamber of commerce. This celebration featured a big street parade of which, according to the complaint, was a troop of horseback riders attired as cowboys.

The complaint charges that Griggs, one of the defendants, was one of the cowboys and was allowed to participate in the parade and carry a lasso in spite of the fact that he was intoxicated. The complaint charges that city and chamber of commerce officials should have known of the rider's condition.

Mrs. Shewbert charges that when Griggs passed the point on North Los Angeles street, near Center, where she was standing, he threw his lasso into the crowd and caught her. He rode on dragging her through the gutter. Shouts of spectators and cries of the women, according to the complaint, failed to stop him and secure her release. She was dragged along until she collided with the rear of a truck, the rope slipped about her hips throwing her to the ground.

When she fell, the complaint charges, Mrs. Shewbert's head struck the pavement rendering her unconscious. She listed her injuries as a concussion of the brain, serious bruises and lacerations about the body and a complete nervous breakdown due to her experience, all of which has permanently impaired her health.

Mrs. Shewbert is demanding $7500 actual damages and $200 special and her husband is suing for $5000 for loss of his wife's society and health.

SANTA ANANS WANDER 4300 MILES NORTHWARD, NEARLY TO ALASKA, ON 18-DAY VACATION

A casually planned motor venture into northern California, Oregon and Washington, outlined three weeks ago by Charles L. Pritchard and LeRoy Hall of the First National bank trust department, developed into a 4300-mile jaunt which lured the vacationists within 200 miles of the Alaskan border, Santa Anans learned with surprise today when the travelers returned after an 18-day absence.

Glowing accounts of sights and experiences enjoyed in the north are being related by the two travelers, who tell enthusiastic stories of their visits to Carson City, where inmates of the Nevada State prison are digging prehistoric remains from caves 200 feet below ground; to Virginia City, Nev., once the site of a city of 400,000,000 and, in 1860, financed the federal government; to the geysers in Lassen Volcanic National park; to Crater lake, Rainier National park, the Canadian Rockies, and to countless cities and resorts in that locality.

Several Santa Anans were encountered en route, among these being Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Beale, who are spending the summer at their cottage at Fallen Leaf lake, near Tahoe; and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Marston (Ruth Pinley) with whom Pritchard and Hall sat on the rim of Crater lake on a snow crust 21 feet deep. The Marstons were en route to Spokane, Wash., on a two weeks' trip.

Tempests Are Encountered

Rains, snowstorms and blizzards were encountered frequently, the most severe of these being met on the Donner pass. Heavy snows, in many cases of such strength as to insure closed resorts for the remainder of the year, were apparently responsible for rampant vegetation. Wildflowers of every variety were abundantly evident, while fruits of all kinds were plentiful and reasonable, according to the tourists. Business conditions in the north were remarkable.

BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED FOR BENEFIT SHOW

Reports from the Unemployed Association of Santa Ana indicate a widespread interest in the performance to be given by Toto's Merry Marionettes tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Ebell clubhouse auditorium for the benefit of welfare work.

The performances, which will feature a marionette review in four scenes and a three-act travelogue with "Peggy in Holland," has been presented to capacity audiences in Southern California, delighting both adults and children. P. T. A. councils and principals of schools in Hollywood, Beverly Hills and Los Angeles have recommended the entertainment for the entire family.

The Unemployed Association is requesting the cooperation of all citizens when its representatives call upon them to purchase tickets for the benefit. This is one of the means citizens have to help feed and take care of the hungry and needy in the city. It may not be generally known how extensive the work is which is being carried on by the organization, but according to officials the group is caring for more than 600 families and were it not for the aid afforded them by the association much suffering would be experienced.

Officials called attention to the fact that it must not be forgotten that purchasers of tickets will get in entertainment value far more than their money's worth, and in addition will be contributing to the alleviation of suffering in the city. In addition to a group of featured dancers and singers that will augment the program and which were announced yesterday, both the Sunshine Girls, a group of popular musicians, and the Kactus Kid, popular young yodler, will also perform, it was announced today.

Performances will be given at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

CHURCH GROUP MEETS

BREA, June 23.—The Woman's Missionary society of the Brea Congregational church met Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. R. W. Spensley, to pack two missionary boxes to be sent one to Straight college, New Orleans, and one to Santee Normal school, Santee, Neb.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. O. S. Close, placed tables on the lawn, where tea and cake were served.

The Santa Anans travel north gypsy fashion, using sleeping casks, purchasing chicken dinners at farm houses, and doing considerable hiking. An estimated 100 miles were covered on foot. One such trek took them three miles over 30 feet of snow from Hawley geyser, in Rainier National park, across the mountain into Paradise valley, described as spectacularly scenic with its circling mountains.

Visit Old Forts

Reaching Lassen Volcanic National park, they made their way in a snowstorm as far as the geyser, whose green circle was described as the only blotch of color in a landscape of snow. After leaving Crater lake, their next destination, the motorists followed the Columbia river highway up to Rainier National park, going thence up the Fraser river into Canada and along the narrow old Caribou trail followed by gold

COSTS COUNTY $54,000 TO DO 1931 VOTING

It cost Orange county citizens $54,000 to have a voice in their government in 1931, according to announcement by State Controller Ray L. Riley at Sacramento today. This was the county's election bill last year. In the entire state the cost of holding public elections totaled $2,431,796, as compared to $387,645 the previous year and $1,687,266 in 1929.

While the cost of elections will vary with election years, records show the tendency to be steadily higher even in years of comparatively equal political activity, Riley points out.

He also predicted that the county electorally bill this year will be considerably higher than in 1931 because it includes the election of many legislators and national officials as well as special elections.

The fact that, in nearly every instance, there are numerous candidates for every open position, will increase the cost of the elections through the necessity of "bigger and better" ballots. In view of the already keen agitation for tax reforms and necessary constitutional changes it is anticipated the next general state election will be one of the most expensive ever held in California, with the possibility that the record of 26 propositions on the last general ballot will even be broken, political observers declare.

In the cost of elections last year Los Angeles county led the state with a bill amounting to $958,658.99.

Alpine county was on the other end of the list as revealed by the controller's summary, with election costs amounting only to $439.72.

MOVE TO L. A.

BUENA PARK, June 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corey and family have moved to Los Angeles, where they will make their home for the next two months in order to be closer to U. S. C. where Corey is attending the summer school to complete his course for a doctor's degree.

The iron ore fields of Lapland, which lie entirely north of the Arctic Circle, are among the most valuable in the world, as the ore averages 53 to 70 per cent of iron.

STATE HOT ON TRAIL OF ALL USURY EVILS

The division of corporations has found it necessary to divide California into districts in order to halt usurious practices by unlicensed personal property brokers, according to an announcement made today by Edwin M. Daugherty, commissioner of corporations. He added that field men are already working in various districts under instructions to ferret out, if necessary, all unlicensed brokers.

The supreme court recently upheld the authority of the commissioner to supervise the business of personal property brokers and declared it mandatory upon persons or companies engaged in making loans of the type covered by the act to obtain licenses from the state. The division will not await the action of local authorities in dealing with unlicensed brokers, but will immediately summon them to appear for hearing to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked. Information furnished the division indicates that in some instances vicious contracts are in existence.

The business of the personal property broker, as defined by law, includes the operation of loan brokers making loans on automobiles, wages, etc. Public interest in Santa Ana and other parts of the state entered largely around the rate of interest written into the personal property act by the last legislature, 3 1-2 per cent a month. The supreme court held that this rate was in conflict with the usury statute, an initiative measure adopted by the people of California in 1918. It was held by the court that the rate of interest controlled by initiative measures providing for a rate of interest not to exceed one per cent a month for all types of loans.

Even following the ruling of the supreme court, there seems to remain some doubt about the actual amounts that can be charged by finance companies for loan money, according to a statement made today by Harry Strachan to a representative of The Register. Strachan, who is secretary of the commission's department, said that the ruling did not define the amount that could be charged by a finance company, but that only 13 per cent a year could be charged. Some finance companies are apparently charging one per cent a month interest and are calling the 3 1-2 per cent a month "service charges," and collect 3 1-2 per cent a month on small loans.

Probation Denied Alleged Arsonist

Billy McKenzie, who pleaded guilty to burning a hay baler and quantity of lumber on a ranch near Greenville, some months ago, was denied probation yesterday by Superior Judge James L. Allen and sentenced to one year in the county jail. McKenzie entered a plea of guilty to the charge several weeks ago and requested probation. Hearing on his petition was delayed until after the trial of his son-in-law, E. R. Kolb, accused of the same crime.

Kolb entered a plea of not guilty and demanded a jury trial. Last Thursday he was acquitted. When McKenzie appeared in department two of the superior court last Friday for hearing on his probation application, Judge Allen continued the hearing until yesterday in order to consider the evidence given in the Kolb trial.

Mr. Brown is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and last Monday graduated from Leland Stanford University. His appointment is said to have been one of the best positions secured this year by any Leland Stanford graduate. The appointment is for a period of three years and includes traveling expenses to and from Japan, and a six-room two-story home with servants and a secretary.

Mr. Brown will succeed Ronald Anderson, another Leland Stanford graduate who has held the position since 1929 and who has now been promoted to a similar position at Kyushu. Articles for Bazaar Made at All-day Meeting

As a result of an enjoyable sewing meeting held all day Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Mary Crissman, 617 South Birch street, members of the American Legion auxiliary drill team have completed an array of lovely articles for a bazaar to be held at a later date.

However, fancy work and articles which were finished Tuesday as well as others which had been made previously are on exhibit in the home of Miss Gladys Young, 635 South Main street. Things which are not disposed of now will be reserved for the bazaar, whose store of articles will be added to from time to time.

At noon, members stopped sewing to enjoy a delicious covered-dish luncheon, which Mrs. Crissman had assisted in preparing. For serving the menu, the hostess centered the table with a bouquet of pink blossoms, and used tall pink candles for lighting.

Miss Minnie Crissman, of the home was present for the morning session. Others in the group were Mrs. Frances Sullivan, captain of the drill team, and Mrs. Mabel Thatcher, Miss Gladys Young, Mrs. Ruth Anderson, Mrs. Emma Penn, Mrs. Myrtle Swarthout, Mrs. Rozann Hardcastle, Mrs. Ruth Jellis, Mrs. Inez Halber, Mrs. May Lindgard, Mrs. Ruth Stewart, two special guests, Mrs. Fullerton and Master Richard Halber, and the hostess, Mrs. Crissman.

The informal time was climaxed with the serving of delicious refreshments, which had been provided by the self-invited group. Many flowers of the season were used in decorating for the occasion. The mother and son were presented with gifts for their new home.

Those in the group with Mr. Smith and Mrs. Smith were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hershey, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swanger, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fox and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Santa Ana Man Wedded Today to Popular La Habra Girl

A leafy bower in the gardens of the Grant A. Van Valin home in La Habra Heights, today formed an ideal setting for the nuptials of Miss Dorothy Van Valin, daughter of the home, and Ray Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Marshall of Santa Ana. The wedding was an afternoon event of much individual charm.

Following the singing of D'Harcourt's "Because" and of "All For You" by Miss Doris Redfern, with Miss Julia Lawrence as accompanist (both classmates of the bride) Miss Van Valin entered the garden on the arm of her father, and moved slowly to the lovely spot which nature seemingly had designed especially for such a service.

A ferny bank rose in altar form beneath the canopy afforded by a drooping pine tree, while the necessary bridal lightness was loaned by tall baskets of brightly glowing gladioluses, advantageously placed to supplement the flowers growing in nearby borders.

Wedding vows were taken before the Rev. R. C. Brooks of Claremont. The young bride was gown in filmy chiffon, with her tulle veil falling from an exquisite lace cap held by orange blossoms. Bride roses formed her bouquet, with a shower of lilies of the valley knotted into sheer tulle ribbons.

Miss Louise Welsch, gown in peach chiffon with picture hat and slippers in the same tones, and carrying an arm cluster of Ambassador roses, served as maid of honor, while bridesmaids were Miss Mary Welsch in primrose velvet chignon, carrying delphiniums; Miss Louise Soule, wearing sea-foam green chignon and carrying pink larkspur, and Miss Marguerite Marsh, in pale yellow chignon and carrying delphiniums. Each pretty bridesmaid wore hat and slippers in the exact tone of her frock.

Alfred Marsh of Long Beach, assisted his brother as best man. More than 60 guests were assembled for the picturesque rites and for the wedding supper which was served at its conclusion. Guests were either members of the two families or college friends of the young couple.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant A. Van Valin, who have lived in La Habra for the past six years. She graduated from Fullerton Union High school, and has just completed her third year in Pomona college.

Mr. Marsh is a graduate of Oregon State college, a member of the class of 1924. Although his parents reside in Santa Ana he has lived in La Habra for the past seven years, and is employed on the P. J. Welsch ranch of La Habra Heights. Among affairs complimenting the two young people since announcement was made of their engagement, was one in which they shared guest honors with Miss Doris Hanna of Glendale and Peter J. Welsch Jr. of La Habra Heights, whose engagement was announced very recently.

After a honeymoon trip through northern California, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh will return to La Habra to a home awaiting them on North Lois street.

Eteri Club Members Have Banquet for Mothers

Eteri club members were hostesses at a charming dinner given in Ebel clubhouses this week, entertaining at a mother and daughter banquet at which some 60 members and guests were in attendance.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of a lovely array of gifts to Miss Ruth Swanson, president of the club, whose marriage to Carl Lykhe is to be an event of June 30. Miss Lucille Allen, vice-president, presented the shower gifts.

A red, white and blue color theme was observed in all appointments of the evening. Tables had been arranged on the veranda adjoining the clubhouse patio, and were decked with quantities of flowers.

The program included a song, "Mother Macree," given by Miss Madelyn Winchell. Miss Ruth Swanson, toastmistress, gave the welcoming address to mothers. Miss Irene Hunter followed with a talk on the organization of the Eteri club 10 years ago at Redondo Beach.

Former Santa Ana Girl Honeymoons in South

Santa Ana acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Max Wilde of Portland, Ore., who were residents in this city ten years ago, will be interested in learning of the marriage of their daughter, Beatrice, to John C. Barnes of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, who were married in Portland June 15, are spending a part of their honeymoon in Santa Ana as guests of the B. B. Walbridge at 2222 North Main street.

Mrs. Barnes, who resided in Santa Ana with her family for a period of five years, completed her work in the junior high school here before moving north. Her husband, a bank examiner, is engaged in the same type of work as that which occupied Mrs. Wilde during his Santa Ana stay.

The newlyweds plan to start north by automobile Saturday for Portland where they expect to make their home.

Los Gauchos Are Hosts To Friendly Group At Dinner Dance

Choosing the lovely "Sycamores" in Tustin as the setting for their dinner, members of Los Gauchos of Santa Ana junior college entertained Monday evening with a dinner dance which was their last social function of the school year. Tables at which the delectable three course meal was served, were prettily decorated with maidenhair fern.

Following the dinner hour, members and their guests adjourned to the spacious lounge of the Y.W.C.A. in Santa Ana, where dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. A special feature of the evening was the contribution of two piano solos by Miss Harriet Abrams, a guest. The success of the affair was due to Walter Carrothers, who was in complete charge of arrangements.

Those present included the Misses Helen Wieseman, Bernadine Bastian, Virginia Knot, Harriet Abrams, Alice Lamb, Florence Wasson, Eunice Bright, Elizabeth Rinker, Betty James, Allen Adams, Joanna Day and Bernice Bronson and the party hosts, Messrs. Rex Woodward, Charles Warner, Fred Davis, Walter Carrothers, Eldon Bragg, Roy Adams, De Witt Bishop, Edith Hammill, Wilton Hilliard, Hollis Gray, George Eilers, Howard Barnes, Tom Donahue, together with Dean and Mrs. McKee Fisk.

Church Societies

First Christian

Bringing to a close their meetings for the season, members of the Aid society of the First Christian church met Tuesday afternoon in the educational building. Mrs. T. D. Knights, president, was in charge of the session.

A review of the activities of the society during the past six months was given by the secretary, Mrs. E. H. Elener. Among other things, the organization made it possible for 11 young people of the church to attend the conference now in session at Idyllwild. It was brought up.

During a short devotional period, all members took part by giving appropriate verses from the Bible.

General plans were made for the next six months' program. This will be resumed in September, after the society has a two months vacation period.

Aid Society Outing

Gathering at Bixby park, Long Beach, 150 members of the First Presbyterian Aid society passed a pleasant afternoon yesterday when they followed a picnic luncheon with an informal program to which the several sections of the organization contributed.

Stunts directed by the leaders of the four groups, Mrs. R. J. Day, Mrs. G. W. Lyle, Mrs. E. C. McKinstry and Mrs. Fred Miller, proved entertaining, these program features including readings by Mrs. George Reif Steck of Joplin, Mo., who is visiting in Long Beach and Santa Ana this summer, and a skit directed by Mrs. A. J. Beckman.

The picnic served an unexpected purpose in providing opportunity for the women of the society to renew their acquaintanceship with Mrs. Stevenson, wife of the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana, whose attendance at the affair preceded by only a few hours her departure last evening for Denver, Colo., where she will join Dr. Stevenson.

Picnic arrangements yesterday were in general charge of Mrs. S. A. Jones, president of the society.

Wives of Medicos Are Bidden to Luncheon In Long Beach

Taking its place among the pleasant social affairs featured prominently by the wives of Southern California medical men, was the luncheon given Monday in Hotel Virginia, Long Beach, by the Women's auxiliary to the Los Angeles County Medical association, to which the auxiliary of the Orange County Medical association was bidden, with special guest honors reserved for Mrs. F. E. Coulter of this city, president of the California auxiliary.

In adopting a decorative theme of red, white and blue, the hostess organization made a friendly gesture to its city's plan for entertaining the Olympiad entrants this summer, and stressed the Olympic symbols in every possible manner. Gladioluses and delphiniums offered the necessary range of colors in the floral details, while flags of all nations made bright splashes of colors on the white linen of the table covers.

In perfect harmony was the chief address following the luncheon, when Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, world traveler and lecturer, talked on "Olympic Games, Old and New," developing the subject in an arresting manner, and Madame Manuela V. Rudrow-Rafferty sang a series of songs, including the one of her own composition which has been adopted as the official Olympic song.

Among the Orange county women in attendance in addition to Mrs. Coulter, guest of honor, were Mrs. Frank H. Patterson, Mrs. Harry Zaiser, Mrs. G. I. Sellon, Mrs. F. Harold Gobar and Mrs. C. C. Violet.

In the absence of Miss Chastain, who has been in the east the past two months, the retiring president's duties have been ably performed by Miss Margaret Gaeb, vice president.

The meeting also marked the occasion of the distribution of the club's annual, entitled "The Biz," edited and compiled by Miss Lola Skaggs and Miss Charlotte Harnois. The club will have its last get-together next Tuesday night, when members will meet at Corona del Mar for a beach party. Two social meetings are planned for the last Tuesdays of July and August, which will represent the only club assemblies until regular sessions open in September.

A summer's visit with two nieces from Nebraska is anticipated by Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Clark, who motored to Los Angeles this week and to meet them upon their arrival.

Both young women are planning to take advantage of their period in the west by engaging in studies pursuant to their respective interests in the fields of education and medicine.

Miss Katherine Fisher, who resides in Wynmore, Neb., and has been teaching in Grand Island, Neb., for the past two years, will work toward a Master's degree in history during a six weeks' summer course for teachers at the University of Southern California, while the second niece, Miss Mary C. Clark of Tekamah, Neb., will be working in the laboratory at the Orange County hospital for special experience as a medical technician. She will return to Nebraska in the fall to take her final year at the University of Lincoln, having just completed her junior term.

Beauceants Spend Day In Santa Monica

Continuing the series of reciprocity meetings with which the various California chapters of the Sons of the Order of the Beauceant entertained regularly, the Santa Monica group was hostess today to Beauceant women who motored to the beach city for a luncheon and assembly.

Representing the Santa Ana order were Mesdames C. S. Dunphy, president; A. R. Muller, W. Verne Whitson, S. A. Jones, Henry Diers and J. H. Shaw.

The Santa Ana women will receive the Assembly in July, while in August the order will convene in Long Beach.

Young Santa Anan Will Wed Upon Arrival In Kansas City

The contemplated departure on Friday of Paul J. Dale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester I. Dale, 1924 North Ross street, for Kansas City, Mo., assumes special importance in the minds of his many friends, who have just learned that the young Santa Ana insurance man is returning to Kansas City to claim as a bride, Miss Julia Tellman Swope, prominent in social circles of the Missouri city.

Miss Swope is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunton Swope II, and has set the date of Wednesday, July 6, for her marriage to the Santa Anan. The ceremony will be an afternoon event in the garden of the Swope country estate near Independence, and because of the prominence of the bride's family, is attracting much interest as one of the outstanding events of the summer in Kansas City social circles.

Miss Maude Louise Swope will act as maid of honor in her sister's bridal train, with Miss Margaret Swope and Miss Lucy Lee Swope to complete the trinity of charming attendants. Since Mr. Dale's brother and partner in business, C. Harold Dale, was unable to leave Santa Ana at this time, the former has asked his fiancée's brother, Thomas Hunton Swope III, to serve in the capacity of best man, with Messrs. Maurice A. Nelson of St. Louis, and Joseph Solschled of Kansas City, as the remaining members of the wedding party.

Honeymoon plans of the young couple embrace a motor tour of the east which will take them up into the New England states, and they are not expected to return to California before sometime in August, when they will make Santa Ana their home.

Mr. Dale, who is a graduate of University of Missouri at Columbia, has been associated with his brother since November in Dale Brothers' Insurance agency of this city.

Miss Swope attended Gonzaga. She represents the third generation in a family that has played prominent part in the development of Kansas City, and whose civic spirit had definite form in the gift to the city of the famous park which was given the family name.

Cards Follow Luncheon In Masonic Temple

Mrs. Harvey Emmitt and Mrs. Ray L. Spough were hostesses Tuesday at the luncheon with which Harmony Bridge club members ended their customary afternoon of card play.

Six tables of bridge were in session after the luncheon, the afternoon's competition resulting in the awarding of prizes to Mrs. Al Adrain and Mrs. Jo Steele, whose scores tallied first and second, and to Mrs. Laura Kesemann, who held low.

The club will be entertained July 5 at a pot luck dinner to be held in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Folger, 1708 West Washington avenue.

Calumpit Auxiliary

With the four new "colors" officiating for the first time with the eight officers who have served previously, the meeting of Calumpit auxiliary, U.S.W.V., was held Tuesday evening in the Knights of Columbus hall. The new group includes Mrs. Myrtle Waffie, Mrs. Cecilia Cook, Mrs. Gertrude Rowe and Mrs. Phoebe Hyatt.

The group decided to enter a float in the Tournament of Lights to be held Wednesday, July 6, at Newport Beach.

It was reported that Mrs. A. D. Swindler, former resident of this city, now of Palm Springs, is in the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles suffering with spinal trouble. The committee in charge reported that $16.40 had been expended on behalf of the needy this past month.

Members of the auxiliary and camp made plans to attend a meeting in Los Angeles Saturday, when department officers will be honored guests. The camp and auxiliary will join in a picnic July 10 at Irvine park.

During the evening, the cup which members of the drill team won at the recent convale held in Long Beach, was exhibited.

G. A. R.

When Sedgwick Post No. 17, G. A. R. met yesterday afternoon in Knights of Pythias hall, there were several members of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War present to enjoy the session with the seven comrades of the post present.

Commander J. H. Brown presided over the meeting, and in the absence due to illness of Daniel Holbrook, officer of the day, and the chaplain, H. E. Smith, asked W. L. Davis, E. J. Parker and C. E. Brayton of the Sons' organization, to fill vacant posts for the business session.

Members were glad to learn that Chaplain Smith was improving in health at his home, 919 East Washington avenue, and were interested also in the decision on the part of Daniel Holbrook, 1007 West Myrtle street, to enter the Veterans' hospital at Sawtelle, for treatment.

After these and similar reports were given the remainder of the business session was given over to short talks, including those on national affairs of the present, by Quartermaster W. J. Lieser and G. W. Spencer.

Your Own Tomato Juice Cocktail

We haven't said anything about tomato juice cocktail for a long time. Perhaps it hasn't been necessary, for it does seem that there isn't a woman living who doesn't serve this delicious appetizer now-a-days.

Don't think for a minute that tomato juice cocktail is strictly reserved for dinner use. Your menfolk will welcome a pitcher of chilled tomato juice for the breakfast starter. Its peppy vitamins seem to start the day right for them as nothing else does.

Then, there is this angle to it: It's always ready if you make it in quantity. For three quarts take three No. 2 cans of tomato puree and press through a sieve (or potato ricer) into a big bowl. Add the juice of three lemons, a teaspoonful of salt, two or three teaspoons of sugar, a tiny bit of cayenne, two teaspoons paprika, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, and a small green pepper minced very fine. This makes two quarts. Thin with one quart of water and bottle. When you serve it add a little minced parsley and some grated horseradish, if you like it nippy.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Swedish Potage

A good sized kettle of ham broth
One head of celery
1 bunch young carrots
1 bunch white turnips
1 cup shelled green peas
1 bunch green onions
Handful chopped parsley
1 cup pearl barley
Black pepper adlib
Ten cents worth of chopped steak

Before we start making the potage let me say that this is a meal in itself, needing only rolls and dessert to make your family rise and bless you.

We'll assume that you scrub the ham and parboil it, then change it to fresh water in which it finishes cooking. You could do a "picnic" ham or ham hocks if you don't want the dish to be too costly.

After the ham has been cooked and removed from the broth, skim off most of the fat floating on top and put it back on the fire with the pearl barley simmering in it for a couple of hours. The celery can be finely shredded and cooked in the broth but the other vegetables are nicer if done by themselves in just a tiny bit of water and an open vessel (for evaporation's sake). The peas and carrots have an unpleasant sweetish taste that I do not like, so that's why I say cook them separately and add to the broth 15 minutes before serving.

Season the broth nicely and finish it by cooking the chopped steak. Just pinch off tiny bits and drop into the boiling soup, cooking them for 10 minutes. That's all, except the rolls and dessert of fresh fruit.

Serve this potage in your biggest soup plates or in cereal bowls and be ready with second servings for the family will surely ask for them.

A generous bowlful of the potage has calories amounting to 150, not much of which means anything except in goodness and health.

Have you ever served apple-mint sherbet with lamb or chicken? You have a happy surprise coming if you haven't.

This, and a number of other frozen things are included in this week's leaflet—NEW FROZEN DESSERTS—and you may have a free copy by including a stamped, self-addressed envelope when you send in for it.

Friday I am giving you two vegetable recipes. Peas with lettuce and creamed cucumbers.

Santa Anans who will attend are Mrs. Elva Crawford, oracle, Mrs. Clara Blackwell, past oracle, Mrs. Pearl Laub, vice oracle, and Mrs. Laura Dunlap, recorder.

Hermosa O. E. S.

Following their usual chapter meeting Monday night in Masonic temple, members of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., held an informal card party. Mrs. George Osterman and Z. B. West presided over the meeting.

First prizes in the card games were won by Miss Dorothea Smith and Franklin G. West. Mrs. Janette Terwilliger was consoled. Following refreshments were served by the officers of the star.

'DARK HORSE,' VAUDEVILLE AT FOX BROADWAY

The Fox Broadway theater tomorrow presents another of its Friday and Saturday double programs—five acts of vaudeville and "The Dark Horse," first political picture of a political year, in which Warren William, Bette Davis and Guy Kibbee are featured.

Stage attractions follow: Chief Eagle Feather and company, greatest American Indian tap dancers; Fox and Ferris, two American beauties; Rena and Rathburn, comedy dancers, formerly of Fanchon and Marco's "Gay Vienna"; Warren and Inman, "You'll See"; and Frenzi and Nelita company in "Romantic California."

"The Dark Horse" concerns the difficulties encountered when a political party cannot reach an agreement on its candidate for governor and compromises on a "dark horse," who turns out to be difficult to handle because of a tendency to do the wrong thing at the right moment—for the opposing party.

Warner Baxter's "Man About Town" closes a five-day engagement at the Broadway tonight.

FAIRBANKS' TRAVEL PICTURE AT STATE

Burton Holmes, Martin Johnson, Tom Terris, Robert Bruce and the rest of you traveloguers, look out! Another globe trotter, riding the magic carpet of overwhelming cinema popularity, with a name which has spelled vim and vigor and joy, and taking life with a grin in every language, comes to the screen as a travel impresario.

Douglas Fairbanks takes you round the world in 80 minutes at Walker's State theater tonight. Poor old Jules Verne, with his 80 days. Imagine Post and Gatty taking 8 days! We go with the irrepressible Doug in 80 minutes—with whoopee, golf, thrills, romance and the privilege of meeting famed figures of the mysterious Orient.

Novelty of treatment, photographically and otherwise, feature this innovation from Fairbanks.

"Grand Hotel," taken from the successful stage play of the same name, has the greatest cast in motion picture history. Greta Garbo, John Barrymore, Lionel Barrymore, Joan Crawford, Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone and Jean Harlow are the featured players.

CHAS. WATKINS TO WED

SAN CLEMENTE, June 23.—Charles Watkins, El Heraldo de San Clemente printer, will marry Miss Joan Handschug, of Minneapolis here July 1, according to an announcement made today. The Rev. Robert Hogarth will perform the ceremony.

TALLULAH BANKHEAD AT FOX WEST COAST

"Thunder Below," with Tallulah Bankhead in the leading feminine role and Charles Bickford, Paul Lukas, Eugene Pallette and Ralph Forbes featuring, comes to the Fox West Coast theater here tomorrow.

The cast is the most celebrated that has appeared with Miss Bankhead since she left the stage for pictures. The story concerns one woman in a tropical jungle—among many men. Her marriage has become ashes. An accident robs her husband of his sight. The wife and her husband's best friend, his trusted friend, though loving each other ardently, stand aghast—nitying, yet resentfully. What happened is said to compose one of the most dramatic films of the season.

"Thunder Below" follows to the West Coast screen "Week-End Marriage" which has its final showings tonight. "Week-End Marriage" features Loretta Young, Norman Foster and George Brent.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

It wasn't long till Scouty found that traveling along the ground atop two racing ponies was a rather risky stunt.

"Twas hard for him to stand up straight. One pony traveled at a gallop some faster than the other and began to move up front.

"Hey, wait!" yelled Scouty. "Don't do that, or shortly I'll be falling flat. My little legs won't stretch, you know. You must stay side by side.

"Then I can hang on good enough, although the going's rather rough. If you two ponies separate, I'll spoil this fancy ride."

The other Tines stood in awe. "I must admit I never saw a riding act as clever," shouted Windy, with a grin.

"Game Scouty stands up brave and bold. I hope he doesn't lose his hold. If there were prizes for that stunt, I'm sure that he would win."

When Scouty thought he'd had his fill, he made the ponies stand real still and then he slid down to the ground. The rest began to cheer.

"I will admit that I was good. I really did the best I could," said Scouty. "Gee! I didn't fall, but I came very near."

Just then they heard a ringing sound and Duncy, when he looked around, said, "Oh, there's going to be a fire, but it's all in play."

"They've trained some little dogs to be real firemen. You will shortly see just how they put the fire out. They're rehearsing it today."

A cardboard house began to burn. Each fireman dog then took his turn at chopping at the windows and then spraying water high.

Wec Windy shouted, "Each one knows just how to use that small fire hose. If they keep on they'll surely have the fire out, bye and bye."

Late News From Orange County Communities

Crime Conditions Hit By Brotherhood Speaker

NEW OFFICERS SELECTED FOR CHURCH GROUP

LA HABRA, June 23.—Dr. Martin Luther Thomas, chief investigator from the office of Mayor John C. Porter, of Los Angeles, spoke on "Crime" before the Methodist Brotherhood last evening.

To Buron Pitts he gave the credit for having kept the gangsters out of Los Angeles city and county. He has fought the battle single handed, he said, and politicians and crooks have tried to oust him, but he has stood his ground.

The temptation in these times, he stated, is tremendous for both men and women, and the government of the people, by the people and for the people has almost ceased to exist in this country, he declared. No man should be placed in the office of trust unless his character is based on the "Rock of Ages," Jesus Christ, he said.

The Christian people, Dr. Thomas declared, must get out on the battle field and take religion seriously, from the standpoint of doing their duty, fearlessly, just as a soldier. He told of the thousands of telephone calls from those who report deeds of crime and lawbreaking and then beg that their names be withheld for fear they will be killed for telling.

More than 100 were seated at the dining tables in the social hall last night. A 6:30 o'clock dinner was served under the direction of section two of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church. Seventeen members of the choir formed a chorus under the direction of choir director B. C. Beech and gave two selections.

At the business meeting presided over by President J. A. Scofield, the nominating committee, consisting of Edgar Luehn, Ross Hodson and M. J. Pickering, submitted the names of Gordon Cameron for president, E. A. Schneider for vice president, A. J. Cookerly for secretary, and I. R. Nicklin for treasurer. These officers were elected and will be in office for the coming year.

The Southern California Brotherhood conference was announced for June 30 at the First Baptist church in Long Beach and delegates appointed last evening were Gordon Cameron, H. A. Robinson and E. E. Brown.

Gustav Schneider, of Riverside, field secretary of the State Federated Brotherhoods, was present and in his talk brought out that for the past 50 years we have had material things, but for the next 50 years science is going to turn its laboratories into spiritual research work. The site brotherhood, he said, is going to fight for prohibition.

T. J. Munson, of Riverside, also was a speaker. He is business manager of Weekly World News. Sheriff Logan Jackson was introduced by Mr. Scofield and gave a short talk, and Jack Summers, county investigator from District Attorney Pitts' office, was a guest.

Tustin W. C. T. U. Holds Birthday Social June 28

TUSTIN, June 23.—The Tustin W. C. T. U. will have a birthday social June 28 in the banquet room of the Presbyterian church. It was announced today by Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, treasurer. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon, with Mrs. M. E. Marshall and Mrs. Kate G. Ebel serving as the kitchen committee and Mrs. C. E. Greenwood and Miss Florence Stone, as the dining room committee. Each member is urged to attend and bring a friend with her, also a covered dish and a few sandwiches.

The oldest members of the union and those who have served longest in the temperance work will be special guests of honor and will be seated at a table reserved for them. Other members and guests will be seated at tables according to the months in which they celebrate their birthdays.

WORK STARTED ON SCHOOL ADDITION

DOHENY PARK, June 23.—Construction has started on an additional classroom at the grammar school. According to Don W. Leyden, clerk of the school board, the work will be done on the basis of separate contracts for the different classes of work. C. B. Shannon, of Doheny Park has been placed in charge of construction.

Mrs. Nellie Land has been appointed by the school board as principal for the coming school year, succeeding R. B. Gilman, who has accepted a teaching position at Fallbrook. Figures just released by Leyden show that approximately 4400 free meals of soup and buns were served in the school during the past winter under the child welfare program sponsored by the chamber of commerce. The board has expressed its pleasure at the result of this experiment.

Candidate Talks At Lions Session

COSTA MESA, June 23.—D. V. McKinney, Democratic candidate for congress, was the speaker Tuesday noon at the regular Lions club luncheon at the Woman's clubhouse. The Washington bicentennial celebration was the subject of his talk. The speaker was introduced by C. B. Diehl, program chairman.

Lloyd Willcutt, local Scoutmaster, asked for assistance for the Scouts' vacation trip to Rocky-Li in July and it was voted to take care of the expense of two extra boys for one week at camp.

Ted Schauer, a former Newport Heights resident, was a visitor.

BRIDGE ENJOYED

PLACENTIA, June 23.—Mrs. J. P. O'Brien was hostess to her B. G. N. club at her home Tuesday afternoon. A light luncheon was served preceding the play. Prize winners at bridge were Mrs. Elizabeth McFadden, Fullerton, who played for Mrs. Nellie Cline; Mrs. J. D. Sturdevant and Mrs. Jeanette Blattner.

Others attending were Mrs. William Berkenstock, Mrs. T. L. McFadden and Mrs. Arnold Kraemer, Placentia, and Mrs. George Forster, Fullerton.

H. B. WORKERS' SALARIES CUT BY CITY BOARD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 23.—When the fire whistle blows here, city firemen will have to drop their garden tools and lawn mowers and leg it to the fire wagons. The city council in an effort to cut the budget has decreed that the five city firemen and the chief will have to cut the lawn and keep the parks in order about the city administration building. This relieves the lawn keepers, who will be sent to other parks.

The force of men set to work several months ago to relieve the unemployed situation will be dropped from the payroll. At times there were 75 men from the unemployed list given wages on the city payroll. The regular city force will take over this work. Another item of economy will be the cutting off of half the street lights in the residence and outlying business districts.

The council has allowed $200 to the chamber of commerce to be distributed to the unemployed organization at $50 a week for the purchase of food for needy families.

The fire chief, J. K. Sargent, will draw $180 a month instead of $225. Chief of Police Keller will worry along with $200 a month instead of $275. Firemen get $148 now instead of $175. Policemen will have to arrest people a little cheaper.

Motorcycle officers are cut from $300 to $170 and patrolmen from $175 to $150. The city clerk, C. R. Furr, whose salary was cut from $300 to $250 last January, did not get a second cut. The city attorney, Ray Overacker, will have to do the legal work for $110 a month instead of $175. Police Judge C. P. Patton will assess fines for the salary of $170 a month instead of $225. Henry Wirth, street superintendent, will get $175 a month instead of $275. It is announced that salaries of less than $100 a month will not be reduced.

There will be 30 city employees affected by the cut which will average 10 per cent, it is said. The council claims a reduction of $73,630 has been effected over the fiscal year beginning July 1 next and ending July 1, 1933. There will be no money for fireworks July 4 and the unemployment aid will be cut after July 1.

LIBERTY PARTY AIMS OUTLINED IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, June 23.—Under auspices of the Fullerton league of the Liberty party, a meeting was held last night at the Ebell club-house, where the speakers, H. S. Hoard, of La Habra, and M. V. Hartranft, of Los Angeles, talked on the purpose of the party and told of the need of all who wish to change party affiliations to do so Thursday and Friday by registering with the city or county clerk or with a deputy registrar.

The purpose of the party is to get control of the lower house of congress, according to the speakers, with the object in view of getting the control of the currency in the hands of the people and out of the hands of the banks.

Explanation of their main platform is that all private banking is unconstitutional and they base their claim on a phrase in the constitution of the United States, that "Congress shall have the power to coin money and to regulate the value thereof."

A. W. Cleaver, Fullerton, read a resolution, which passed unanimously, condemning the policy of the Hoover trust in presenting so called false propaganda by inferring that the Liberty party is against the Hoover dam and Metropolitan Water district projects. According to Cleaver, the propaganda is false and has hurt the Liberty party.

CLUB ENTERTAINED IN NORWALK HOME

BUENA PARK, June 23.—Members of the Delta Card club enjoyed a delightful evening as the guests of Mrs. Bess Clanton at her home near Norwalk Wednesday evening. Baskets of gladioluses and a large bouquet of tiny rose buds were used by the hostess in decorating the home.

She received a silver tray and sugar bowl and a crystal vase as prize. Mrs. Mona Dodd was console. At a late hour refreshments of ice box cake, coffee and tiny cups of various nut meats were served. Mrs. Hazel Hauley and Mrs. Ramona Sutton were substitutes for the evening. Members were Mrs. Kathleen Gage, Mrs. J. W. Schiller, Mrs. Winifred Sophia, Mrs. Vera McKnight, Mrs. Martha Clanton and Mrs. Mildred Newton all of Buena Park; Mrs. Ruth Smith and Mrs. Fred Willard and the hostess, Mrs. Bess Clanton.

Mrs. Kathleen Gage will entertain the club at the next meeting, at her home on North Homewood avenue in Buena Park on July 13.

Spanish Village Proving Popular With Vacationists
SAN CLEMENTE, June 23.—The summer season is on in the Spanish village. Scores are moving into or seeking information on San Clemente for week ends and vacation facilities. A marked increase has been noted in golf course attendance and at the beaches, fishing fleet and pool.

The fraternity members will be guests of Hallam Cooley of Three Arch bay, after the golf tournament. The members of the Orange County Coast association will play July 11. After the play all will be guests of the Osterman brothers at El Toro at a barbecue. Members of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county will hold their first golf tournament at San Clemente July 25.

It has been announced that the American Legion auxiliary will stage a picnic here July 18. On July 29 the fifth area caucus of the auxiliary will be held here with more than 200 delegates in attendance. On August 6 and August 29 the Coast Artillery will quarter here.

NO MORE TEARS

MRS. HOFFMAN was eighteen when her baby was born. Within a year she had a serious operation. Then the flu hit her nerves and she cried over nothing at all. It was an unhappy household.

Her grandmother told her about the famous Vegetable Compound. That's how old and trusted a remedy it is! "I have taken six bottles," she says, "with marvelous results and I am thankful for my increasing health."

P. Greeley, and also the absence of the club vice president, officiated at yesterday's meeting of the club in the El Portal cafe in Balboa.

The main speaker on yesterday's program was Clyde Doyle, Long Beach attorney, chairman of the Long Beach Recreation commission, and chairman of the Long Beach Olympic commission, who spoke on the Olympic games.

PLACENTIA, June 23.—The Rev. Charles E. Fuller, pastor of Calvary church, is conducting a series of meetings Sunday afternoons at the Grace Baptist church at Wilmington and on Monday evenings he is giving a series of talks on prophecy at the Second Brethren church in Long Beach.

MANY ENTRIES PROMISED FOR LIGHTS EVENTS

NEWPORT BEACH, June 23.—Fifty men representing coast towns from Wilmington on the north to San Clemente on the south and practically every town of Orange county met in the El Portal cafe at Balboa last night as guests of the Newport-Balboa Tournament of Lights committee at a dinner meeting. Harry Williamson, chairman of the "lights" committee, presided and acted as master of ceremonies.

Russell M. Huddleston, of Wilmington, commenting on the spirit of co-operation existing between the coast cities, expressed pleasure in being able to participate in the "lights" fiesta. Long Beach was well represented at last night's meeting. A. A. Miller, speaking for the city, assured the tournament committee that Long Beach will be represented in the parade, the manner to be yet determined.

John Siegel, city street superintendent for Newport Beach, stated that the city is working out plans for a float. Ray Saunders stated that the Harbor Service club, the Seaside cafe and the American Legion expected to be in the parade, the latter depicting Washington crossing the Delaware. Vern Mellon, manager of the Service Laundry, will enter a commercial exhibit. Conrad Shock of Balboa Island, representing the Ruby Avenue association, said that that organization is coming out for the sweepstakes prize, and many other organizations and commercial floats in the Harbor district will be entered.

Laguna Beach was represented by Mayor J. E. Bishop, John H. Hinchman and Sumner Crosby, who expressed their pleasure that their city will be represented in the parade. George Scherck, San Clemente publicity representative, said that they expect to be represented.

Tustin will enter a boat depicting a scene in the Olympics in honor of Miss Evelyn Purcell, one of this year's graduates from the Tustin high school, who will be in Chicago on the day of the tournament, running in the Olympic trials, according to a statement made by Dale Winterbourne, who represented Tustin at last night's meeting. Sol Gonzalez, of Santa Ana, who runs in the Olympics with his Spanish orchestra, entertained with both vocal and instrumental numbers at last night's meeting, stated that he will enter a float in the tournament parade representing old Mexico.

Costa Mesa was represented by Committeemen Charles Dunn, Leroy P. Anderson, and Dr. C. R. Jackson and Lloyd Willcutt.

J. P. Greeley, president of the Harbor Service clubs, spoke briefly on the history of the Newport-Balboa Tournament of Lights going back to the time when it was only a string of lighted rowboats.

Harbormaster Robinson, who is to be grand marshal of the parade, introduced his aides, Bernard McNally, in charge of class one entries, canoes and sail boats under 20 feet in length; T. E. Bouchay, in charge of class two, sail boats over 20 feet in length, power boats and cruisers; Harold Fink, in charge of class three, organization, city and commercial floats. Robinson also outlined the course of the parade as follows. The entries will assemble on the north side of Lido Isle, headed east, and at starting time will move east to the east end of Lido Isle, thence south into the channel along the south side of Lido Isle, turning west along the south side of Lido Isle to Nineteenth street, from which point they will turn back east along the peninsula, thence north across the channel and back west along the south shore of Balboa Island.

Decorations and lights will be on the starboard or right side of the vessels.

CUT IN ARMAMENTS PROPOSED

President Hoover's pronouncement for the salvaging of the Geneva disarmament conference is constructive and forthright. It will "call the bluff" of the nations which have been trying to accomplish something there and the nations, too, which claim to be too hard up to pay the debts of the reparations.

France was "caught out" by this one-third reduction proposal, and French spokesmen complained of the surprise element. But France has one defense for all such proposals, which is what it considers its perilous position in Europe as a neighbor of Germany. At the present time Germany is so consumed with internal problems that there is no possibility of military aggression. Furthermore French diplomats have created a hegemony around Germany and Austria made up of treaty alliances which makes its position secure—so long as France continues to pay the military bills of the countries which have signed these reciprocal treaties with France. But the lessons of history are unanswerable arguments. There was 1870 and 1914, says France and demands assurance of security. The United States and England might guarantee France the security which it holds as the price of disarmament if there was perfect faith that France was as devoted to peace as it probably will be in the millennium.

Italy responded with joy to the President's proposal. A spokesman for Great Britain at the conference said that his country wanted even more disarmament than was provided in the American proposal.

Russia at several disarmament conferences has voiced the astonishing idea that the way to disarm was to disarm. But that was Russia and not to be taken seriously. Now the United States advances with a similar proposal. Heaven knows that the world needs to be relieved of the burden of preparation for periodic slaughter. But what obstacles will be put in the way of carrying out this sensible proposal? The repercussions from Geneva, following this plan of President Hoover's will be loud and long.

However the unfortunate part of President Hoover's proposal for a one-third cut in the armaments of the world is that it comes to the people of the United States in the nature of a diversion. It may be regarded as so apt a bit of strategy as to be tickling. The Geneva disarmament conference has been languishing so badly that even the humorists had forgotten that it was still in session. And it had become so hopeless that only the demoralizing effect of adjournment kept the delegates in session.

Now President Hoover, in bad with the "drys" who by and large are the same people who hold peace dear, makes a gesture which may appear too obviously to be a bid for their support. And the same proposal is, my its phrasing, made attractive to the overburdened taxpayers and the unemployed. The manpower of the army is not to be reduced, thus avoiding any charge that men who have found jobs in the army would increase the great army of unemployed.

Whether regarded from a national or an international angle the proposal will develop diverting reactions.

Herriot says America should leave Europe alone. Why couldn't he have said that back in 1918?

A LEADER RETIRES

We are sorry that the political conditions force Phil Swing, our great champion at Washington, out of the Senatorial race. Mr. Swing is an unusual man in public life. He is a fighter with convictions. He has stood for the Eighteenth Amendment, and against its repeal, and he faced in a state-wide fight, a repudiation of the Republican plank upon this matter.

He was in sympathy with the common man, stood for his relief in certain directions, and he felt that the program as carried on for this unemployment relief, and as outlined for the future, was inadequate, if not impossible.

It is unfortunate that owing to the conditions of politics, such a man as Mr. Swing must retire. We need such men as he. We have too few of them. It is a sad commentary on our political life when men such as he are forced out by political combinations and platforms, and his inability to reach the people of the great cities, because of the attitude of the metropolitan press.

PLANS FOR RELIEF

The Emergency Relief committee has had three plans before it for raising needed funds for the coming year. They were presented in last evening's Register. They were:

1. Staggering work in businesses of the city to spread employment among greater numbers.
2. Voting a bond issue to provide funds.
3. Donation of one per cent of wages of all employees of business firms of the city for relief funds.

Two of these, the first and the third, are dependent entirely on voluntary contributions. If work is staggered, unless it is the city's work entirely that is meant, it must be agreed to by the employers. Employers in decreasing business are always willing to stagger with their own employees, but it is difficult, if not impossible, to do it with strangers. It is not very probable that this would get very far.

Donations were depended upon this last year. The program, as it was carried out in Santa Ana, was to get money donated by the people who had it. The suggestion was as much as five per cent. Some did pay as high as that proportion. Others paid nothing. With few exceptions, the ones least able, it was found, gave the most. Many people, abundantly able, gave nothing, and some in such small amounts that the burden was heavy upon the others. Many who contributed last year are less able to do it now. We are afraid that voluntary contributions will hardly meet the need. In the country at large, it was found it met only 30 per cent of the requirements.

The third suggestion is a bond issue. It is probable that society in some organized way, must meet the requirements of the hour, in order to save the burden from falling upon the few, and avoided by the many.

We wonder if, in order to save the taxpayer, a special session of the legislature, on being called, could pass a bill legalizing the use of gas tax funds for relief work in the cities, and with this amount of some $400,000 for the county, nearly one-third of which is due Santa Ana, we could have an abundance to take care of ourselves.

This would be particularly true if the state would take a similar action with its share of the gas tax. If the nation is going to furnish help to the state, this would aid mightily. We note that in contemplation of this, Los Angeles county has postponed its election on the $12,000,000 bond issue.

THE PASSING OF A NOTED WOMAN CATERER

Alice Foote MacDougal's name has been associated with some of the best restaurants in New York. One of the things for a stranger visiting New York to do was to eat in Alice Foote MacDougal's restaurants. Her business ability has been the theme of magazine writers, and her name has been heralded far and wide as an indication of what a woman can accomplish in the business world. And now, we learn, that her restaurants are in distress, and that the end has come.

Somehow, the past three years have been hard on all enterprises. Like a storm which picks out the weak spots of the trees in its path, so this depression has marked the weak spots in the business world. The great financial structure of the country remains, but there have been many casualties. The same is true in business. One is disposed to wonder whether prosperity builds up institutions and businesses of one kind and another which are merely fair-weather projects, destined to fall before the first blast of adversity. We suspect that there are a great many persons who have gone quietly on, whose names have rarely been seen in the public prints, but who are doing business at the old stand in a quiet way. When prosperity returns, as it undoubtedly will, they will continue on, reaping their modest profits, but fortified against any storm that may come. After all, as Sir Arthur Salter writes in his really valuable book on the present business and international situation, "Recovery: The Second Effort," there is nothing organically wrong with the world. The trouble is simply functional. The falling out here and there of a bank or a business leaves untouched the great resources of nature and the efficiently productive capacity of human beings. These are still with us. It is for our wise leaders to give us a better method to utilize our resources and to distribute them equitably among all men.

We may regret the passing of old landmarks, of which the MacDougal restaurants in New York may be one. But it is well to point out that with all our landmarks of the past, the world is moving on toward others which may be better and more serviceable.

AMBITION AND SPLEEN AT CHICAGO

Mr. Alfred E. Smith of New York is increasing the evidences, if it is possible to do so, each hour at Chicago, that he is unfitted to be the President of the United States. He is carried away with his personal ambition, and knows neither courtesy nor gratitude.

He is a much changed man from what he was when he was a member of the legislature, or even Governor of the state. He is determined that if he can't get it, New York's Democracy shall not have a new leader in the person of Roosevelt, who might get it.

Briand Rich in Remembrance

Aristide Briand, the French statesman and friend of peace, left an estate of only $3400 in monetary worth but one in the memory of mankind of such inestimable value that it may be anything you care to name. Money did not need to mean anything to Briand and certainly not to his memory.

The Golden Fleece!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

MODERN PIRACY

Time was when a man who was keen to get rich, And did not give a hoot how he did, A fortune would gain on the old Spanish main In the manner of shrewd Captain Kidd. But piracy's grown somewhat risky of late And rascals have found it unhealthy To fill up a hold with a merchantman's gold When they're eager to make themselves wealthy. And so they've abandoned piratical craft For the vastly superior system of graft.

It is plain that the pirates who prosper today Do not need either courage or nerve; They have personal friends who their own private ends Are always most eager to serve. By distributing favors to that man or this They are freed from all troubles and worry, So they cheerfully grin while the dollars roll in, Which render them rich in a hurry. They have found it is needless to take any chance In order to shine in the ranks of finance.

Captain Kidd and his followers never were sure That before the next morning dawned pale They might not be caught by pursuers and brought To a cell in the handiest jail. But their craftier followers rake in the coin, Which for them kindly men have invested, And, though business is brisk, they don't take any risk Of being so much as arrested. With never a hazard great fortunes they earn, Which proves that old Kidd had a whole lot to learn.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE POLITICS OF EMERGENCY

The nation has been passing through the valley of the shadow of economic death!

As I indicated day before yesterday, this fact hovered over my mind as I arose to speak to some 8000 farmers the other day.

As I looked into their anxious faces, I realized that all I had discussed with them in other years—scientific and economic research on their problems of production and distribution, better business management of farms, co-operative marketing, the production of industrial raw materials as well as foodstuffs on the farms, and a better training of our future farmers—are even more important now than in earlier years of less stress and less strain.

But I realized that in this phase of emergency through which the nation is passing these are not enough.

We cannot now be content to go leisurely about the business of perfecting long-time policies.

We must do that at all costs.

We must not permit the fears and hysterics that attack us in moments of profound depression to lead us into sowing the seeds of political, social, and economic policies that will hamstring us for a generation to come.

But we are in a phase of national emergency, and we must find and follow an emergency leadership rooted in the twin soils of sanity and courage.

We must not be afraid of intelligently formulated emergency policies or emergency economies. The situation demands that we declare a moratorium on all petty political bickering and, regardless of normal party considerations, call to the colors, in this economic war on depression, the best brains and the best character the nation affords.

We cannot afford to waste any time, in the crucial weeks and months ahead, on anything but the evolving and executing of detailed programs for the recovery and stabilization of American economic life.

We cannot afford to be interested in or to tolerate stale catchwords and weather-beaten slogans.

We must have programs upon which we can act!

More maneuverings for personal or party advantage become, in a time like this, a kind of social treason.

HIS GARDEN

Any child who has the least taste for gardening ought to have a bit of earth for his own. I know a lad reared in a crowded city, not even a foot of earth upon which to rest his foot, who is a gardener. He gathered soil where none else could see any, and he made windowboxes and attached himself to a florist until by and by he got to a school where there was a garden and he blossomed there.

Gardening is one of the finest fields for the cultivation of mind and body known to civilization. It is the oldest and most perfect form of work. It is creative in its very nature. There's magic as well as drudgery in it so it runs the full gamut of activity. Its rewards are in direct relation to the effort spent. The rules are impersonal and they work for the unlearned and unskilled exactly as they do for the expert. A child can grow as fine a petunia or a cabbage as the skilled gardener, provided he follows the rules.

Then, gardening is an outdoor activity altogether. The boy working in his garden is part of the great outdoor scheme. He is in partnership with nature, toiling to make life richer. There's no nonsense about it. You dig and the deeper you dig the higher your planting grows. You weed and water and cultivate and the more power you put into the job the more the planting shows. Wisdom comes with the harvest. A child cannot plant a seed and care for its development without spreading himself in growth over a new field. He is bound to learn something.

There is no activity that so justly rewards the worker nor so plainly indicates his quality. The lazy gardener is held up to all the world by the pigweed and the burdocks and the malicious bindweed. The industrious understanding gardener is showered with honor and glory by the color of his blooms, the perfume and the weight of the fruits of his garden. The weather has some share in the job but the gardener goes into partnership with nature and surmounts the evils of drought and storm, taking them philosophically, part of the scheme of things.

Life holds no secrets from the gardener. The whole story is before him and his patient tolerance, his skill, his quiet acceptance and understanding and ultimate triumphs are in accord with all that life can mean. That training is a liberal one for anybody and priceless to those children who can take it.

There is no sense in trying to make a gardener out of a business man. Don't waste the time. But if you have a child whose eyes turn longingly toward the earth and all that grows therein, help him to it. You will be opening a door that will lead to ever increasing happiness and health. You will be helping him to enter a field of knowledge that touches every other.

While we know that all knowledge is one, we are certain of it when we have built and maintained a garden.

Into my garden all manner of people, all strange customs, all lands, all life have entered, until it has become a place like that one planted over toward the east long time past. Give the earth hungry child his garden and make it as good a one as lies in your power. He will do the rest.

AUSTRIANS ROUTED

On June 23, 1918, the grand retreat of Austrian troops, which finally led to their utter rout, started across the Plave from Montello to the Adriatic. The retreat was disorderly, the Austrians abandoning many guns and war material. Thousands of prisoners were taken.

In fighting which involved hand-to-hand combats, American troops finally cleared Belleau Wood of all German troops. British and French troops also staged successful offensives, the former entering German positions near Bucquoy and Morlancourt, and the latter gaining ground between Montdidier and the Oise.

It was reported that the Soviet government was forced to negotiate a foreign loan, and that in return for the money Germany would be granted wide exploitation in Los Angeles schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Plumb and family left for a mid-summer vacation outing at Big Bear lake.
